A very brief history of Alive 90.5. The best kept secret in the hills!

The idea for a western Sydney public radio station was born in 1983. There were two groups leading the way initially, but over the years, this grew to as many as seven.

The present association is made up of several of these groups, namely Cumberland Community Radio, Radio West and Hills Community Radio. Over the next few years, no less than ten test broadcasts were conducted, many held to coincide with important local events such as the Orange Blossom Festival and Parramatta Foundation Week.

Alive 90.5 has conducted training workshops for the Granville CYSS, recorded productions for musical societies, and played at dances for local schools.

The group is now incorporated as an association under the Associations Incorporations Act in NSW. The name of the association is Cumberland Community Radio Incorporated. The call sign is 2CCR but recently our on air call sign (or station identifier) was changed to Alive 90.5.

Alive 90.5 is a member of the Public Broadcasting Association of Australia, all of the staff of Alive 90.5 are volunteers and receive no pay for their work. This fact is perhaps THE single most important characteristic of Alive 90.5. Community access is the essence of public broadcasting.

Alive 90.5 is supported by local businesses sponsoring the station and by very reasonable membership fees and air fees.

There is a fairly wide range of programs from Breakfast and Drive to Music programs and Magazine programs featuring interviews with a local flavour.

The range of programming ensures that there is something for everyone in the community and some listeners have been 'Rusted on' to Alive 90.5 for many years.

Alive 90.5 presents a warm and supportive environment for its volunteers to come to and, do the thing they love best, this may be as a presenter on air, community liaison work, Network and General IT work or being out there talking to future sponsors, that depends on the volunteer and what they would like to do, volunteers choose how much time they wish to invest.

Alive 90.5 is involved in 'outside broadcasts' such as Australia Day, Relay For Life etc.

At this time Alive 90.5 is actively seeking on air presenters, so, if you have an interest in being heard on community radio and have the voice for it, come along and see us or give us a call on 9686 3888 or send an email to station.manager@alive905.com.au

MODEL NEARLY SHOT BY SECURITY GUARD

Security guards walked cautiously through Hambleton Cottage in the middle of the night in answer to an alarm of an intruder in the building. Entering the withdrawing room, the guard was startled by a figure dressed in period costume standing beside the fireplace. She did not cry out or move despite the sudden appearance of the guard levelling a bright torch and pistol at her. 'Emmeline' was a department store mannequin recently obtained by the Parramatta Historical Society and was elegantly dressed in a hand-made gown in the style of the mid 19th century.

You can see the beautiful 'Emmeline' in Hambleton Cottage today and hear the life story of Emmeline who was the youngest daughter of Elizabeth and John Macarthur. Come on a guided tour of discovery today.

Operation Drink Drive 1 - 2015

Constructions begins on Leisure and Learning Centre

A turning of the sod ceremony was held today at the Hawkesbury Senior Citizens Centre at Richmond to mark the commencement of upgrades to the centre, which in the future will be known as the Hawkesbury Leisure and Learning Centre.

Designed by architect Justin Long and to be constructed by Keystone Projects, the $2 million extension to the existing building will provide a broader purpose community space which will support a range of recreational, learning and active lifestyle pursuits.

The Sod Turning was carried out by Richmond resident Ellie Roberts. At 98 years old, Mrs Roberts has been a long time member of the Senior Citizens Centre. She first visited the site as a young child to watch silent movies with her mother at the theatre that formerly stood there. When the theatre was replaced by the Blue Danube Dance Hall during the war years she danced there with members of the RAAF.

The reconstruction of the Hawkesbury Learning and Leisure Centre will include an extension to the existing building to create multi-purpose activity spaces including a wet-area/art studio and a dividable activity hall with a sprung-wooden floor to accommodate exercise classes, dancing and other physical activities. The activity hall will have a removable wall allowing for one large open space and each activity space incorporates a storage room and kitchenette. It will also include a reception area, additional female and male toilets, a laundry/cleaning storage room, a meeting room and larger staff offices.

The existing building will also be refurbished to create dedicated spaces for a senior's café, an informal lounge and reading area, a small audio-visual theatre together with the existing technology and billiards rooms.

It is anticipated that building upgrades to the new Hawkesbury Leisure and Learning Centre will be completed during August 2015.

Council successfully prosecutes for tree removal offences

Following illegal tree clearing in Glossodia, a decision was handed down at Windsor Local Court in which a long-running plea of guilty was concluded late last year.

Anyone who witnesses tree removal or potentially illegal earthworks is asked to report it to Council's Customer Service Officers on (02) 4560 4444 so that the matter can be investigated in a timely manner. Fines of up to $1.1 million can be enforced by the Land and Environment Court and up to $110,000 per offence in the Local Court for such matters.

New Theatre To Add Vibrancy To Castle Hill Town Centre

The conversion of the Pioneer Room into a 346-seat boutique theatre will be a fantastic cultural addition to the thriving Castle Hill Town Centre, according to Hills Shire Mayor Clr Andrew Jefferies.

With Council's adoption of the Cultural Action Plan last week, Mayor Jefferies said he was excited to a provide cost effective solution for the performing arts community.

"This Council has a strong record of financial and asset management and we've identified an opportunity to create a theatre in a prime location using a building we already own," Mayor Jefferies said.

"We believe that opportunities exist for independent theatre to thrive at a location within the Castle Hill Town Centre."

"The new theatre will be a real win for performing arts groups, businesses, residents and visitors."

Mayor Jefferies said that the new theatre was not a replacement for The Hills Centre but was specifically targeted towards demand for independent and smaller scale theatre productions.

What do you remember of your younger days, the television shows that you watched or the music you listened to? I used to love to watch shows like "Bandstand", "Six O'Clock Rock", the "Go!! Show" etc. This was the era, during which I first got interested in music. The 1960s saw me "dee-jaying" at teenage discos at Fairfield and Cabramatta and attending a radio announcing school in Sydney along with the likes of Donnie Sutherland.

Once hooked on music, it became a large part of my life. Naturally as one gets older, some taste changed. I started to like ballads and jazz. Later I became a program producer and presenter on the local radio station in the Hills then called 2CCR (now Alive 90.5) and eventually Chairman of the station. During my time on 2CCR I invited some guests into the studio, including the subject of this fortnight's column.

Many long time residents of the Hills district would know of the late James Pegler who I am proud to have called a friend.

James was born in Castle Hill and attended Castle Hill Public School finishing up as Head Boy after which he went to Parramatta Boys High School. Jim also attended St. Pauls Church which was very close to his home where he was in the church choir and also involved in the Youth group at St. Pauls and became a Sunday School teacher. Jim had an amazing voice which his mother believed to be unique. His mother contacted the Sydney Conservatorium of Music, which she had also attended. Jim however also had a love of the land and was not to sure which way to go. Music or the land. He was accepted into the Conservatorium into a eight year course. Four years into the course, he left to become a Jackaroo in Queensland. Whilst in Queensland, his mother passed away which required him to return to sort out her estate.

Jim's daughter Emma recently related to me that her daughter (Jim's granddaughter) Grace was going through a Jewellery box once owned by Jim's mother and at the bottom was a envelope with a couple of old letters in them. They were written to Jim, by his mother whilst she was dying. She told him how proud she was of him and how proud his father would have been. She urged him to do something about his voice. Emma feels that perhaps Jim's mothers words meant enough for Jim to pursue his musical talent ▶ James Pegler passed away from Heart Failure on 15th June 2004.

He then went back to the Conservatorium of Music to complete the remainder of his course where he was told that they had nothing more to teach him and was told to gain audition experience. Jim then auditioned for Gordon Boyd's Showcase on ABC TV where in 1967 he was awarded the People's Choice award.

After Showcase he appeared on Channels 9 and 10. He was a support act for Welsh singer and comedian Harry Secombe on his Australian and New Zealand tour. Harry and his manager, Jimmy Grafton invited Jim to contact them when he was going to go to the UK. In 1972, Jim's first trip to the UK took place and appeared on Harry Secombe's TV show and other TV programs in the UK at the time. When he returned to Australia, Jim was the support act for Petula Clarke at the Sydney Opera House and received a standing ovation for his rendition of "My Way"

Lisa Pegler (Jim's widow) told me the following little snippet about Jim and his TV shows on ABC including the weekly "James Pegler Show"

"Part of our honeymoon was travelling back and forth to Melbourne for rehearsals and recording the show week by week. 6 shows in total. In 1979 he had a show on the ABC a James Pegler Special. It outrated the commercial stations. Harry Secombe, a great friend of Jim's, was his guest on this show. They had so much fun with it. The ABC actually gave us dates that would be fine to get married on. June was one time and November another so from proposal to walking down the aisle was just 6 weeks. I was in Hong Kong for BCAL and just got home in time. Jim made it over 6 days prior. My Mum and brother did the organising with me just leaving lists. It was a great fun day and our guests asked if we could do it again because they enjoyed the party so much."

Lisa went on to say "Jim appeared on all the TV stations (except SBS) through the 1960s 1970s and 1980s. He became ill in the 1990s and eventually had to give up stage performances."

He also co-produced and starred in the TV special "Australian Christmas" on ABC TV, which attracted interest in the UK, America, Hong Kong and Europe. The show in fact was bought by 15 countries. The show was thought up in Jim & Lisa's Living room by Jim and also Robert Hardy (another Castle Hill resident and a boyhood friend of Jim's).

Jim released 9 albums one of which turned gold. One album "Australian Christmas" was not released. The master tape was stolen so therefore has not released.

James' family owned the Castle Hill Theatre (Cinema) in Old Northern Rd., which they had built in 1938 he was also a student at Castle Hill Public School. He had also appeared with Gladys Knight and Des O'Connor and was described by David Frost as having the "most exciting voice in Australia".

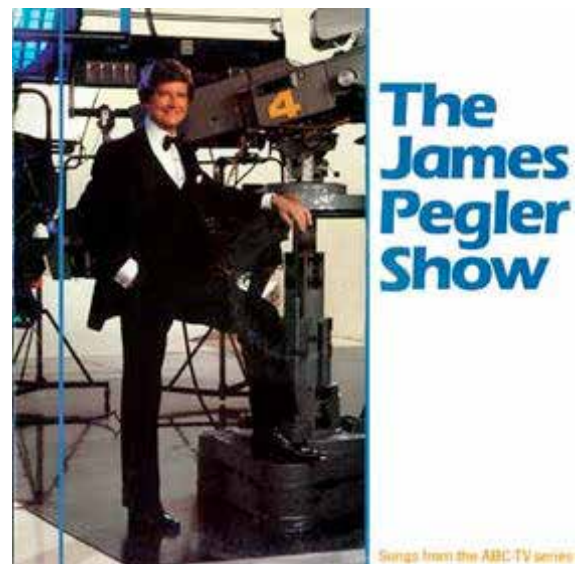

His most personal triumph was performing at the United Nations UNICEF concert in New York along with Joan Sutherland, June Bronhill, Barry Crocker and Rolf Harris.

James was also one of the volunteers who worked at "Jazz at the Pines" at Dural, where he put up all the chairs and tables and also assisting Clive Roughley with security. I recall seeing Jim perform at a concert at Parramatta Riverside Theatre, where unknown to him, my wife and I were sitting in the audience when he gave some favourable publicity to my radio program to the audience. He was a true gentleman who never forgot his friends.

I remember Jim once saying to my wife and myself. "Thanks for the support, I'll share wear it always" Such was his sense of humour.

What do you remember from your early days in the district? You can share memories of school days, your first job, your first car or your family holidays + lots more.

If you have any memories that you wish to share you can send them to PO Box 1278, Baulkham Hills, NSW 1755. You are also welcome to visit and join my "Hills District Memories" page on facebook where you will find 100s of local and former residents sharing their memories with each other.

THROUGH STATE MP'S EYES by Ray Williams, Member for Hawkesbury

NOMINATE YOUR NEIGHBOUR OF THE YEAR IN BAULKHAM HILLS

You can now nominate your neighbour for Baulkham Hills Neighbour of the Year.

The friendship of neighbours gives our community a sense of security and companionship and the community can come together to celebrate this on Neighbour Day, to be held this year on Sunday, 29 March.

A strong community is founded on neighbours looking out for each other, whether it be feeding your dog, mowing your lawns, taking your garbage out or picking up the kids from school.

Just like a great sporting team, our community works best when we do the little things right, and the Hills Shire is founded on good neighbourhoods.

I am inviting the Baulkham Hills community to nominate their neighbour by explaining, in 200 words or less, why they think their neighbour should be the Baulkham Hills Neighbour Of The Year.

The winner will receive a $100 Castle Towers voucher, sponsored by Castle Towers.

Entries can be submitted by email to baulkhamhills@parliament.nsw.gov.au or by mail to Suite 1, 25-33 Old Northern Road, Baulkham Hills by Friday, 13 March.

DELIVERING THE SKILLS FOR A GROWING ECONOMY: FREE VOCATIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR BAULKHAM HILLS

Many young people in Baulkham Hills will have access to free training to help them find a job.

A re-elected Baird Government will make hundreds of training courses free for 200,000 disadvantaged young people across NSW — including many in Baulkham Hills.

Local businesses in Baulkham Hills will also be encouraged to employ more apprentices as part of an historic compact signed between the NSW Government and the State's peak employer and industry groups.

The Baird Government has created more than 145,000 new jobs and we are committed to ensuring every young person in NSW has the skills they need to find a job in the fastest growing economy in the country.

The Baird Government will do its bit to help apprentices find their first job by requiring require contractors to employ a minimum number of apprentices on every NSW Government project worth more than $100 million.

Public school students in Baulkham Hills studying a vocational education and training course for their HSC will also benefit from a $27 million program to provide on-the-job training.

Structured workplace learning is an essential component of VET in schools which helps students gain practical skills in a real-world setting.

Finding a career is an important step in life and these fee-free scholarships and access to on-the-job training will ensure more young people have the opportunity to succeed.

Reskilling NSW builds on the Baird Government's record investment in vocational education and training, which includes:

- $2.3 billion in spending on vocational education and training in 2014/15, an 11 per cent increase compared to the last Labor Government;
- More than 60,000 additional training places in 2015 as a result of the NSW Government's Smart and Skilled reforms; and
- $1.86 billion for TAFE NSW to deliver quality training across the State.

BRAND NEW CAR PARK A HUGE BOOST FOR HILLS DISTRICT COMMUTERS

More than 180 free and untimed spaces are now available at the Torrs Street commuter carpark - a major boost for local public transport customers travelling to Parramatta, North Sydney and the CBD.

The project has been delivered as part of the Transport Access Program, a NSW Government initiative delivering accessible, modern, secure and integrated transport infrastructure where it is needed most.

The Baird Government identified a piece of Road and Maritime Services land left unused from a previous construction project on the M2, and invested a further $1.25 million to build the new car park in collaboration with the Hills Shire Council.

The new car park, located in Torrs Street, is in addition to an existing 46 space car park located in the same street, just a short walk away from each other.

I'm very pleased the Baird Government is again delivering for customers – a block of land just a short walk from nearby bus stops, has been transformed into a convenient commuter car park to make that morning search for a parking space just a little easier.

This is a huge win for customers, particularly those travelling on buses to Parramatta via Windsor Road or on the M2 to North Sydney or the city.

The car park will provide 183 spaces, including four spaces to cater for people with a disability. Cyclists will also benefit, with 20 bike rack spaces now made available.

These major infrastructure projects, like the $8.3 billion North West Rail Link, which includes 4,000 commuter car parking spaces, will transform the way people in north west Sydney use public transport.

Since March 2011, we've increased public transport services for our customers with more than 10,500 extra weekly train, bus and ferry services.

This includes more than 2,700 extra weekly bus services in Sydney's northwest, which shows this government listens to customers, sets out a proper transport plan and delivers.

The rollout of Opal also means customers can access benefits like cheaper travel for regular commuters as well as saying goodbye to those frustrating Monday morning ticket queues.

Meet Coco. Foster Carer Required Coco is in need of a new home or foster carer asap as she is currently in boarding facilities. If you can assist please contact us. Coco came into care with 2 little kittens and is now looking for her forever home. She is a very friendly, beautiful, loving young lady. She is ok with dogs and used to be indoor/outdoor. She is friendly and likes a cuddle but wouldn't be classified as a lapcat. If you can offer Coco a safe, new, home we'd love to hear from you.

LATE SUMMER VEGIE CARE

Late summer in the vegie patch is a balancing act – looking after the last of the summer crops, and getting ready for the cooler season plantings to follow. Sometimes the main problem is too much success! If you have a glut of tomatoes or cucumbers, get busy making sauces, pickles, relishes to enjoy later in the year.

Harvest

Ripening vegies can become a magnet for pests and diseases, so keep on harvesting regularly. Zucchini and cucumber turn into giant marrows if left too long on the vine and are much tastier when young. Regular tip pruning keeps basil lush and leafy and removing flower heads will prolong leaf production. Powdery mildew is a fungal disease prevalent in late summer on pumpkins, squash, zucchini and cucumbers. Treat using Yates Lime Sulfur which has no withholding period so it's safe to pick, wash and eat vegies straight after spraying.

Liquid Feed

Feed leafy greens fortnightly using an organic liquid feed such as Yates Uplift Organic Liquid Fertiliser. Grown quickly and harvested when young and tender you will notice an improvement in both taste and texture.

Keep tomatoes productive with regular applications of Yates Thrive Liquid Tomato Food. It feeds through the roots and the foliage and its high potassium ratio encourages prolific flowering and fruiting. Healthy tomatoes are less likely to succumb to late summer pests and disease problems.

Shade

Temperature, not sunlight, ripens tomatoes, so temporary shade cover will protect your crops from heat on scorching summer days. Rig up some shade cloth either stapled or cable tied to garden stakes. It can be rolled away when not in use.

Bolters

Pull out any crops which have finished or bolted to seed. There's still plenty of warm days ahead so sow some quick crops of leafy greens like silverbeet, open hearted lettuce such as Yates Salad Mix which contains Cos and tasty Mignonettes, Asian greens, radish and spring onions to fill the gaps. Water on easy to use Thrive All Purpose Liquid Plant Food every two to three weeks to promote lots of healthy green foliage.

Grubby tomatoes

Treat tomato grubs with Yates Success Ultra, containing low toxic spinetoram which is derived from beneficial soil bacteria. It's an effective control for grubs which enjoy tomato foliage and ruin the fruit. It's safe to pick the tomatoes one day after spraying.

Late summer pests like white fly and other sap suckers can be treated with Yates Natures Way Natrasoap Insect and Mite Killer. Mildew and disease problems can be prevented by regular dusting with Yates Tomato and Vegetable Dust.

A FITTING TRIBUTE

Written by Rosemary DorrOUGH

It is with sadness that we report the passing of prior long time Glenorie resident, David Bevan.

David, the oldest son of Daphne & Victor Bevan, late of Cattai Ridge Road, Glenorie, lost his battle with his health, on Saturday 7 February 2015 at Royal North Shore Hospital.

He was born on 18 August 1943, grew up in Glenorie, a pupil of Glenorie Public School then Hornsby Boys High which unfortunately burned down, requiring transfer to Normanhurst Boys High.

Upon completion of his schooling he commenced a carpenter's apprenticeship with Paul Bridson. He also worked shifts at the Glenorie telephone exchange run by Ivan and Shirley White within the Glenorie Post Office. As a lad he was a member of the Glenorie Scouts and in later teenage years was in the first group of Glenorie Sea Scouts organised and run by Ray Whiteman.

On 29 July 1961, 20 days before his 18th birthday, a tragic accident rendered him a quadriplegic. He spent many months in Royal Nth Shore Hospital. The Glenorie Community including the scouting associations rallied with amazing support, fund raising for David and his family to assist with David's medical and rehabilitation expenses, climaxing in a dance held at the Glenorie Memorial Hall attended by 350 people.

David's original rehabilitation exercises included using an old typewriter with two fingers of his paralysed hands and hitting the keys as hard as he could. From this simple exercise, gaining knowledge and ideas, the donation of an old alcohol run carbon duplicator, support and assistance from many people including his cousin, Stan Bevan, and a lot of hard work, his own business "Daveprint Duplicating Service" was born.

This business grew over the years, saw the introduction of a letterpress printer with which David produced cards, invitations, reports and magazines including the Glenorie RSL magazine "Yours". With progression David became proficient with computerised equipment and eventually started the production a local newspaper "The Glenorian – Glenorie and District Gazette". David designed, organised, edited, gathering local items, advertising and information over the years for this popular local newspaper, producing 100 editions with the final issue printed in November 2010.

David was well recognised in the Community being awarded life membership of Glenorie RSL in 2008, Life membership of Dural Rotary Club, a community award from radio station 2WS, member of Galston Rotary Club, and worked for many such community groups.

David's health started to deteriorate and circumstances saw him move to Nth Richmond for the last few years, with the assistance of family. He became bedridden in the latter part of 2014 and was frequently hospitalised, becoming a permanent resident of Aminya Nursing Home at Baulkham Hills in January 2015.

David always felt that he wanted to repay the community who came to his aid throughout his difficult life.....well done David.

FIRE PUMP BUYER BEWARE!

Thousands of engine drive portable fire pumps are purchased every year during our scorching bushfire season. Many purchases are made on the basis of an urgent need to buy a pump for a range of duties. Those duties may include bushfire protection, running irrigation on horticultural produce or home gardens, or even transferring water over long distances for livestock.

Australian Pump Industries, warn that "impulse" buys can lead to disappointment. Customers often pay too much for products that simply don't perform to expectations.

UNDERSTAND YOUR REQUIREMENTS

Determine the distance water is to be pumped, the height the water has to be lifted (the required head) and the flow required at the end of the pipe.

Australian Pump recommends studying pump's performance curve and checking the following

- 1. Flow produced – What amount of water that will be available at the head (or pressure) that the pump will be operating at.
- 2. Engine RPM – Does the engine hold its rpm under load?
- 3. Selecting the right engine – Is the engine backed by a service network with spares readily available?
- 4. Pump Components – Ask the dealer about the quality of the impellers, volutes and even mechanical seals.

TWIN IMPELLER OR SINGLE IMPELLER PUMP?

Twin impellers are undeniably capable of higher pressures than single impeller pumps but flows are generally lower. Customers should satisfy themselves that they really require the extra pressure before leaping in to buy a twin impeller pump.

SELECT THE RIGHT PUMP DEALERS

High pressure fire pumps are now available through a wide range of outlets including Big Box hardware stores. However customers often need specialised assistance and advice when it comes to pump selection and suitable fittings to match.

Further information on pump selection including a handy guide on questions to ask before making a pump selection is available free of charge from Australian Pump Industries dealers throughout Australia.

#ourABC

It 1953, and Sidney Chambers (James Norton) is vicar of Grantchester, a village just outside Cambridge. Sidney's is a quiet life. Or at least, it has been - right up until the moment that murder comes his way...

Joining Sidney as he journeys into this dark world is the affable but world-weary Detective Inspector Geordie Keating (Robson Green). They are partners in crime and forge a true friendship as each offers a different insight into the crimes they begin to unravel.

Sidney Chambers has lost track of time, having spent a glorious morning with his fun-loving friend (and the woman with whom he is secretly in love) Amanda Kendall (Morvern Christie). Racing to church, Sidney arrives just in time to minister at the funeral of a local solicitor, although his poor time-keeping earns the disapproval of his punctilious housekeeper Mrs Maguire (Tessa Peake-Jones).

With the death a suicide, Sidney does his best to comfort young German widow Hildegard Staunton (Pheline Roggan), but is soon called away from his normal duties when the glamorous Pamela Morton (Rachel Shelley) asks to draw Sidney into her confidence. She reveals that she was having an affair with the late solicitor - and that far from being a suicide, she has reasons to believe that he was in fact murdered.

With Pamela unable to go to the police, she asks Sidney if he would be able to look into the matter for her - after all, people confide in vicars, don't they? However, Sidney's investigation quickly draws him to the attention of DI Geordie Keating (Robson Green), who doesn't really appreciate the clergyman sticking his nose into things he doesn't understand. But Sidney isn't to be shaken off too easily - particularly when he begins to uncover evidence that the suicide was staged.

However, whilst Sidney is focused on getting to the bottom of the alleged murder, his own world is shaken apart when he receives news that Amanda has become engaged - it seems that Sidney has missed his moment. With his heart breaking, and his theory about the murder seemingly coming up short, will Sidney be able to work out who killed the solicitor before the killer strikes again?

Simon Reeve's Sacred Rivers
Monday, 23 February at 8.35pm
New Series Premiere

World nomad Simon Reeve is back to present this brand new series where history, adventure and travelogue combine as he explores three of the world's major rivers: the Nile, Yangtze and Ganges

Through the stories of the people who live alongside these great waterways, he uncovers their vast influence, and reveals how they unite, and divide, some of the most extraordinary parts of the world. Tracing the course of each river from source to mouth, this series delves deep into the beliefs and practices that underpin the lives of those living along its banks.

Travel from the twin temples of Abu Simbel to the Nile delta; down the Yangtze from the giant Buddha of Leshen to the Three Gorges Dam and on to Shanghai; and along the great mother Ganges in a world caught between ancient traditions and astonishing modernity. Along the way, experience a riot of colour, extraordinary spectacle and unexpected encounters.

Episode One: The Nile

In the premiere episode, adventurer Simon Reeve travels from source to sea along the world's longest river, the Nile. His journey will take him from the holy source of the Blue Nile in the Ethiopian highlands, through the desert of Sudan and onwards through Egypt to the Mediterranean Sea. The life-giving river has forged some of our earliest civilisations and influenced some of our greatest religions. But with populations along its banks rising fast, Nile countries are demanding an ever-greater share of the sacred waters, threatening the stability of the entire region.

New Series

Simon Chan has returned to his home town after many years training in a faraway martial arts temple.

He is a born hero, defender of the weak and champion of the honest people of Cabramatta... Well, not really.

For Simon, it's only a matter of time before everyone discovers he's just an ordinary guy, because Simon has a secret.

Whilst everyone thinks he was training at a legendary martial arts school in Beijing, the truth is Simon was at Marshall's Art School, in Melbourne.

Now back in Cabramatta, armed with a fistful of pastels and a crippling sense of obligation, Simon knows that eventually the truth will hurt... literally. He could lose his life - or worse - disappoint his mother.

The world Simon returns to is familiar yet oddly different to the Cabramatta you may know.

It's a mix of Asian traditions, absurd superstitions and colourful contradictions. A world where brutal gangs terrorise the community with bad karaoke singing; where a magical duck recipe can cast a horny spell; and where pirated DVDs are the new crack cocaine. In this town, evil spirits attack nail-and-beauty parlours, council debates are settled via K-Pop dance battles and car parking spots are more valuable than gold.

The only thing that stands against all this craziness is Simon.

When the ferocious gang leader/karaoke singer Kai Le threatens to destroy his mother's beauty parlour- cum-DVD shop, Simon is joined by his two best friends: Egg, a quick-buck entrepreneur and Petal, a groin-kicking kung fu girl. But can they really protect Simon's family from the Kylie Minogue-obsessed gang lord? Will they uncover the corrupt mayor's secret plan for the town? And can Simon keep his mind off the mayor's daughter for long enough to be (or at least pretend to be) the person everyone thinks he is? Cabramatta needs a hero. Instead they've got Simon, Egg and Petal.

Welcome to MAXIMUM CHOPPAGE!

THE WAY WE USED TO BE

ALLEGRO'S COLUMN

Please send news and comments to "Allegro", P.O. Box D157, Dural 2158

Did you know that Los Angeles in the U.S.A. has literally thousands of restaurants? The figure is somewhere between six and seven thousand and, by Council decree, they are all smoke-free zones. Some have outside eating areas where smoking is permitted, but the law is strictly enforced. It seems that in the States they are more concerned about the effects of smoking on public health than we are here.

When you walk into a bathroom after your wife or daughter has been bathing or showering, are you offended by the aroma from the soap that she uses? Quite often on the TV ads you will see some soap or washing detergent advertised that boasts that it has NO perfume in it. To me this is an overstatement that immediately brands the product "for men only". Surely most of the female sex appreciate a pleasant odour when bathing or doing the washing? Some products have lavender, rose or lemon perfumes incorporated. No-one in our family finds them distasteful. Do you?

"Mac" McCoullough contacted me about the story of the flags. Mac says that the eagle in the South Australian Flag is not the wedge-tailed eagle with which we are familiar. Some folks claim that it may even be some variety of shrike or even the South Australian white-backed magpie. "Mac" says that he read in a South Australian publication that when the flag was made, it was done with rather a rush and the bird depicted on their flag is none other than a Polish Eagle! It seems that was the only model that could be obtained at the time.

"Mac" also reminded me that the flowers on each side of the Northern Territory Coat of Arms are none other than the "Desert Rose". I should have remembered that as this desert flower was frequently mentioned on an air trip to the north of Australia and W.A. that my wife and I were in 1989. It seems that the Territorians are quite proud of their State flag, too, for they fly it on every place they can. It is rather a distinctive design of red and black background.

Are you familiar with the different types of clouds? Or even interested? Basically there are three types of clouds . . . Cirrus (means bearded or trailing like tendrils), Stratus (layers) and Cumulus (heap clouds). Both warm and cold air currents rising make the different varieties. There are combinations of varieties, i.e. Nimbo-(means rain), hence the huge bulky clouds that frequently prelude a thunderstorm are "nimbo-cumulus". These are commonly "middle height clouds" or, on occasions, "low clouds". Some of the semi-varieties are "alta stratus", which often indicate rain, especially if they thicken.

My appeal for details of the Baulkham Hills Coat of Arms was answered by that irrepressible nonagenarian lady from Lower Portland, Mrs. Connie Lowe. Mrs. Lowe knows the Council Coat of Arms very well indeed and has even given talks on it. Details will be published here when Mrs. Lowe sends them to me. She also told me that she has already been booked by Hawkesbury Council to play the beautiful grand piano at the citizenship ceremony on Australia Day next year at the Hawkesbury Community Centre. What a grand lady she is. Admits to being 93 years young and is still driving herself everywhere in her car.

Have you tried to grow Kiwi Fruit? We planted the male and female plants and waited and waited (over eight years) and eventually dug them out. Fruit? None or very little. They can be grown very successfully in the Sydney area, witness is a commercial crop grown every year in Annangrove Road, Annangrove. Originally called the "Chinese Gooseberry", it grew originally on the forest margins in the Yangtse Valley in China. The New Zealanders were the first to realise the virtues of this rather odd fruit and they developed a thriving export market. Progressing further, they are currently experimenting with methods to eliminate the rough short bristles on the skin and hope to develop a smoother skinned variety. On the North Coast, growers have found that they can produce fruit before the Kiwis send theirs over to Australia and thus get the better prices obtainable for early fruit.

If you would like to grow the Kiwi Fruit, here are a few Department of Agriculture tips . . . Firstly, you MUST have male and female plants as it is dioecious. Preferably five female plants to one male. Buy your plants from a recognised good nursery. You will require a good trellis or pagoda on which to grow the vines, which twist interminably. Prune the laterals to keep the plants accessible. They fruit in four to five years and will last 20 years or more. Provide shelter from strong winds (ours were too exposed to the westerlies) and a north-east aspect is better. Keep well watered as the Kiwi Fruit is shallow rooted. Areas which are suitable for citrus or passionfruit are best chosen.

Acknowledgement of another three letters . . . Mrs. C. Lowe, Lower Portland; Mrs. I. Nix, Glenhaven; Mrs. R. E. Ramm, Maroota.

Mrs. Nix asks if I have seen the new mini-shopping centre at Glenhaven. We certainly have and thought it to be very handsome indeed. As yet there are only a few shops open, a newsagent, a take-away and coffee shop and a veterinary surgeon and a hairdresser. A supermarket was to open but has not done so as yet. The stores are right next door to the community centre and a new phone box on the street front. ("Has been there only two months and has already been vandalised," says Mrs. Nix). No expense has been spared in building the shopping centre, so it is to be hoped that it will be successful.

True to her word, Mrs. Connie Lowe sent me the details of the Baulkham Hills Council crest. Too detailed to print in full, but it is at the Council Chambers in Showground Road, Castle Hill, if you would like to see it in colour! Briefly, the crest was designed by Collinridge Rivett and was unveiled by Mrs. Margaret Mullane on August 24, 1964. At the base of the crest is the date 1906, when the first Council was inaugurated. Above the date is the Council motto, "In Meliora Contende", which means "to strive for better things". This is contained in the boomerang shown. It also features the waratah, wattle and a kookaburra. Also depicted is a ship and the sea to represent the ship in which the "First Fleeters" came to shores. Orange blossom and oranges to represent the main industry of the Shire for many years. Next time you are in the Council Chambers, take a look at the crest which is inside, above the entrance desk. Readers may recall that the late Councillor Harvey Lowe served on Council for 30 years or more and during that time was Shire President for a number of years.

Not by any means are all residents in accord with the pedestrian bridge to be erected across Old Northern Road at Dural Public School. Latest reports say that it is to be a "Bailey"-type iron or steel structure, with steps and no ramp. There must, per force, be a great number of steps to traverse as the bridge will have to be very high to cater for the busy road beneath. There can be no doubt some protection is needed for children and parents to cross the road safely, but surely this iron monstrosity could be avoided. Hornsby Council are against it and want the authorities to widen the road and put a "stopping bay" on the western side. Sadly, this is estimated to cost $2 million and according to the Road and Transport people, they do not have the funds. Aren't children's lives more important than dollars? Erection of the bridge has already been approved.

Pet Rabbit Owners Advised to Vaccinate

Pet rabbit owners are advised to have their bunnies vaccinated before the planned release of a disease to combat the feral rabbit population in the Sydney Hills.

Calicivirus, also known as Rabbit Haemorrhagic Disease Virus (RHDV), will be released through the Sydney Hills in March.

Feral rabbits are declared a pest species and are harmful to native plants and animals, cause damage to playing fields, public parks and private property throughout Sydney.

The disease spreads through rabbit to rabbit contact and biting insects. The disease only affects rabbits and is not harmful to any other pets or native animals.

Rabbit owners are advised to contact their vet for a vaccination prior to February 28.

For further enquiries, contact The Hills Shire Council on 9843 0555.

Why advertise in the local TV guide?

- Over 10,000 magazines are picked up by local consumers by choice from stands in local shopping centres, clubs and petrol stations.
- The TV guide is eagerly sought after and in high demand with our pick up rate constantly exceeding 99%.
- A full page ad costs less than printing 10,000 flyers and distribution is free. Rather than being seen as junk mail, it is picked up to be viewed daily.
- As a TV Guide, your ad will be seen again and again over the 16 day period over which the magazine is designed to be kept.
- Value for money, our display advertisements cost less than half of the average cost of other local publications which are viewed once only.
- Local readers support the local advertisers and appreciate and support a local free TV guide.

To enquire or place an ad please email advertise@hillstohawkesbury.com.au for further details or call Belisa Papandrea on 0487 111 868 or the office 1300 616 614
