The President of the Rebels Windsor Chapter has been arrested and charged with the murder of a man on the Central Coast last year.

About 7.45pm on Thursday 24 July 2014, police and ambulance paramedics were called to Comserv Close in West Gosford after 29-year-old Laurie Starling was shot outside the front of his business.

Mr Starling died at the scene.

Detectives from State Crime Command's Homicide Squad and Brisbane Water Local Area Command formed Strike Force Zeitz to investigate the death.

This has included appeals for information about three men seen leaving the area in a small, silver-coloured vehicle.

As a result of their inquiries, Strike Force Zeitz detectives, assisted by the Tactical Operations Unit, attended a home in Kingswood around 6am last Friday 19 June 2015.

There, they arrested the 35-year-old President of the Rebels Windsor Chapter. He was taken to St Marys Police Station and charged with murder. Refused bail, he is expected to appear before Penrith Local Court this afternoon.

A number of exhibits, including steroids, were seized from the Kingswood home, while officers also seized a number of other items of interest during a search warrant at a property in Quakers Hill.

Today's operation follows the arrest of a 29-year-old man at a property in South Windsor about 6am on Thursday 23 April 2015. He was taken to Windsor Police Station, where he was charged with murder; sell firearm; and possess ammunition without authority. His matters remain before the courts.

The investigation by Strike Force Zeitz continues, with detectives closely examining the actions of those who allegedly shot Mr Starling as well as the actions of those involved in the organisation of the shooting.

Police are urging anyone with information in relation to this incident to call Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000 or use the Crime Stoppers online reporting page: <https://nsw.crimestoppers.com.au/> Information you provide will be treated in the strictest of confidence. We remind people they should not report crime information via our Facebook and Twitter pages.

How to Choose the right Rise Recliner for you

During winter we tend to spend more time indoors. Finding a cosy place to sit down and relax is very important and that brings chairs into focus. We all know about chairs. You might have one or two favourites. All chairs give you some support, but think about the following questions.

Do you need extra support? Sit in the same chair for long periods? Do you find it difficult to sit down or get up? Getting the right chair can help keep you independent.

A Rise Recliner or Lift Chair, is good in two ways:

- o The rising action helps you sit down and stand up.
- o The reclining action can make you more comfortable. Check with your medical professional what is good for you.

There are a lot of factors to consider before buying a rise recliner. Here are a few:

- How many motors? This is very important to serve your needs for long term.
- Fabric, Leather or Vinyl?
- What size? Don't get lost in a too huge a chair or get tied to a too small one.
- The carrying capacity of the Chair?
- Does it have a battery back-up in case of an emergency?
- Does it have a head rest?
- Do you need a side pocket?
- How easy are the controls?
- On which side is the control?

It is important to sit on one and try before you buy. Don't forget to ask about the Warranty. Comfort Discovered, (Tel 99874500, Open 7 Days) have a variety of Lift Chairs and Rise Recliners in stock. They, with their 30 years of experience in this field, will be able to help you with your needs. They will have one in stock that suits your taste, size, functions, space available at home and your budget. Visit and take advantage of their special offers on Rise Recliners this Winter.

Astronomy and the Early Days of the Colony of NSW

– Michael Burton

The southern skies are known for their splendour – the Milky Way arcing directing overhead – and drawing the attention of the world’s astronomers. Australia has established observatories for optical and radio astronomy, such as Siding Spring and Culgoora, near Coonabarabran and Narrabri in NSW respectively, that became leading establishments for frontline scientific research.

However, astronomy has featured as a central tenet in NSW since the birth of the colony itself in the late 18th century. Cook’s pioneering voyage that took him to Stingray Bay (now Botany Bay) was initiated by the need to observe the transit of Venus in Tahiti in 1769. When Arthur Philip established the colony of NSW some 19 years later he appointed William Dawes as the first official astronomer. Dawes Point in the Rocks, where Sydney Observatory is today, is named after him, as is the name of the invited review article commissioned each by Australia’s professional astronomical society for its scientific journal.

Governor Brisbane, NSW’s 6th Governor, quite possibly accepted his commission because of his passion for astronomy, knowing that the southern sky was, at that time, virtually unexplored. He founded Parramatta Observatory. He also went on to initiate Australia’s first learned society, which later morphed into the Royal Society of New South Wales and continues to publish the Journal and Proceedings of the Royal Society of New South Wales, the 2nd oldest refereed publication in the Southern Hemisphere.

Possibly Australia’s most famous astronomer, John Tebbutt, discoverer of the Great Comet of 1861, established his observatory at Windsor on the Hawkesbury, where it can still be seen today. Tebbutt’s image later appeared on the $100 banknote (pictured right) along with Douglas Mawson on the reverse, though alas was removed in 1996 with the introduction of our current plastic banknotes.

Michael’s talk will feature snippets of the contributions of all these luminaries to the early colony of NSW, given from the perspective of a modern-day astronomer. We will have some telescopes on hand (you are welcome to bring your own) so that, weather permitting, and thanks to our neighbours at The Missions, we can engage in some star stazing after the talk.

Michael Burton is a Professor of Astronomy at the University of New South Wales, where he is the Director of Teaching for the School of Physics. For his own research, he is engaged on making a new cartographic map of the southern sky – showing the distribution of the giant clouds of molecular gas that lie along the central plane of our Galaxy (the Milky Way) – and containing nearly one billion solar masses worth of gas. He also happens to be the current Editor of the Journal and Proceedings of the Royal Society of New South Wales. And he is a member of the Dharug and Lower Hawkesbury Historical Society.

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS

"Our thumbs are green, we enjoy talking about soil and we love watching grass grow."

But it is the family approach to business that has seen the company overcome the tough times in business. The 1992 recession was particularly difficult time, a time the business is happy to put behind it.

This family approach to the business has seen the company retain most of its employees from the very beginning. In addition, the owner Barry Locock, are now joined by his three sons, Mark, Peter and Paul, the next generation of the Turtle family.

This retention of staff and family orientation to the business allows the company to offer consistency in advice and service to the customer which has clearly paid dividends in the company's history. A combination not available from other suppliers.

But what about the original family member from 1975? The 1969 Mammoth Major truck?

Well, after many years of dedicated service the valued member of staff is undergoing a restoration to return it to its former glory. It will soon return to the fleet. Providing the same level of service and expertise provided by the other more modern members of the family.

Turtle Nursery and Landscape supplies can be found at Cnr Windsor & Rouse Roads, Rouse Hill and Cnr Racecourse & Blacktown Roads, South Windsor. But why not just give them a call on, 9629 2299 because there is only one thing they love more than getting their hands dirty, that is talking about it.

Arthur And George
Friday, 3 July 2015 - 8:30pm
Series Premiere

#ourABC

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle (Martin Clunes) is mourning the loss of his wife Louisa, after a long and drawn out illness. Her death has seen him fall into a guilt-ridden malaise, fearing she may have suspected him of adultery, due to his friendship with Jean Leckie (Hattie Morahan).

Even writing his famous Sherlock Holmes stories isn't giving him much pleasure. But then his secretary, Woodie (Charles Edwards), finds a letter from a George Edalji (Arsher Ali), a young Parsee solicitor, who was in prison for three years for a crime that he says he didn't commit. He wants Arthur's help to clear his name. Could this be Arthur's chance at redemption?

George was convicted of sending poisonous letters and maiming animals in the Staffordshire village of Great Wyrley, in 1903. As George relays the story of his family's persecution, which inadvertently led to his arrest, Arthur is convinced of George's innocence. Woodie, however, is not so sure.

Having been warned off reinvestigating the case by the very judge who presided over George's trial, Arthur determined to discover the true culprit – the so-called 'Wyrley Ripper'. Arthur and Woodie travel to the village to visit George's family, to see the very letters that George's father, the Reverend Shapurji Edalji (Art Malik), received - supposedly from his own son.

However, Arthur and Woodie's arrival at the Vicarage causes a bit of a stir: it seems that someone is intent on learning what they do and do not know. Could this be the 'Wyrley Ripper', trying to warn them off?

Glitch
Thursday, 9 July 2015 - 8:30pm
Series Premiere

#ourABC

The full series of ABC's exciting new drama series Glitch will also be available to watch in its entirety on iView, following the broadcast premiere.

When Sergeant James Hayes (Patrick Brammall), a local police officer in the small rural town of Yoorana, is called out to the cemetery in the middle of the night, he makes a discovery that turns his world upside down. Six people have inexplicably risen from the dead and are in perfect health. With no memory of their identities, disbelief quickly gives way to a determination to discover who they are and what has happened to them.

But the case soon becomes deeply personal to James when he recognises one of the group – it's the love of his life, his wife Kate (Emma Booth). Except, Kate died two years ago, how can this be? James is stunned and confused as he grapples with the implications of Kate's return. More than anything he wants to be with her and keep her safe. But a lot has changed since she died.

He enlists the help of local doctor Elishia McKellar (Genevieve O'Reilly) as he struggles to keep the case hidden from his colleagues, his new wife, and the world. Having this secret tests him as a policeman, a husband and as a man, as one thing soon becomes clear: the group are all linked in some way, and someone knows the truth about how and why they've returned.

Also stars Rodger Corser, Sean Keenan, Ned Dennehy, Daniela Farinacci, Andrew McFarlane, and Hannah Monson.

Dan Snow: Last Heroes Of D-Day
Wednesday, 1 July at 7.30pm on SBS (2-Part Series)
Premiere

With unprecedented access to thousands of top secret 3D spy photographs, compelling story telling, state of the art graphics and dramatic reconstruction, Last Heroes of D-Day brings one day in June, into sharp relief for a new generation. There aren't many days that can be said to have changed the course of history, but there aren't many days like the 6th June 1944; D-Day. What was at stake was nothing less than the freedom of the western world. In a major two-part series, Dan Snow examines how two years of meticulous planning, espionage and the analysis of millions of three dimensional aerial reconnaissance photographs shaped that day. D-Day is also a powerful and compelling story of heroism, self-sacrifice and determination and this is perhaps the last chance to hear the extraordinary first hand testimonies of those who risked their lives to save the world from Nazi tyranny.

LAUNCHED NEW LOCAL HISTORY BOOK

by Trevor Patrick

Trevor McCaskill has written a local history book about the parcel of land known as the 'Lutanda Triangle' in Pennant Hills. This land has an interesting and varied history with associations to well-known Sydney families including the Wentworths, the Fishers and the Chances.

Catherine Bartho opened the meeting and introduced Dr Stuart Braga, who launched the hundred page book on Sunday June 14 in the Leisure Centre Lutanda Manor Retirement Village, Victoria Road, Pennant Hills.

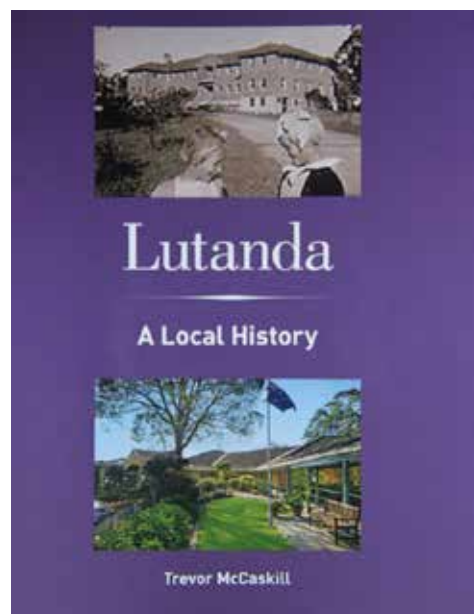

In his address, Stuart said "All history is local – this book tells the story of aborigines living in the Blue Gum High Forest, as part of Governor King's Common, a farm and leading orchard of the district, as an orphanage, as a school and now as a retirement village". Tradition dictates champagne to be used on this occasion and Stuart suggested "we crack a bottle of intellectual champagne and READ THIS BOOK".

Trevor McCaskill thanked Stuart for launching his book and welcomed the hundred invited guests, including historians Helen Barker, Trevor Patrick and Andrew Tink who have written books expanding the knowledge of Australian history.

Trevor spoke of the joy of discovering the layers of history that are in the 'Lutanda Triangle' story, and has written answers to the question "Who has been living on my land?" He made special mention of the assistance given by Laura Murray Cree (nee Chance) whose family lived in Killaloe, the residential home of John Chance [well-known ABC announcer] once located on the Lutanda property.

Copies of the book are available for purchase ($20) from the author. Telephone 9484-7715 or email : mccaskil@tpg.com.au

THROUGH STATE MP'S EYES by Ray Williams, Member for Castle Hill

WORLD COMES TO GET ON BOARD SYDNEY METRO

Hundreds of rail industry experts from across Australia and around the world have been welcomed to an industry briefing on Stage 2 of the Sydney Metro (North West and South West Rail Lines) project. Stage 1 of Sydney Metro, is well and truly underway and the NSW Government is now getting ready to deliver Stage 2 – Sydney Metro City & Southwest. From the end of Stage 1 at Chatswood, the new metro rail network will continue under Sydney Harbour, through new stations in the CBD and west to Bankstown. More than 460 industry representatives from Australian and international firms attended the industry briefing, which detailed plans for Sydney Metro and the process for industry to contribute to the project – and take part in its delivery. Industry representatives have come from companies based in countries including the UK, USA, Singapore, Hong Kong, Spain, South Korea, Japan, Italy, Germany, China, Austria and France to attend today's briefing, which outlined the scope of the works. We're already halfway through Sydney Metro Northwest, with more than 13km of tunnelling already complete on Australia's longest ever railway tunnels. When operational, Sydney Metro will ultimately have the capacity to operate trains from Rouse Hill through the CBD every two minutes in each direction with 98 per cent on-time running.

$20 MILLION FOR BEFORE AND AFTER SCHOOL CARE PLACES

The 2015-16 NSW Budget will include a $20 million, Before and After School Care Fund, which will ensure more Out of School Hours Care (OSHC) places are available from the beginning of 2016. Schools without an OSHC service will be able to apply for funding from August this year. The Before and After School Care Fund delivers on a key election commitment to help families. We want to make it easier for working parents to access before and after school care services and we will increase the number of OSHC places across the State by helping schools with the cost of establishing a service. Grants of up to $20,000 to establish new services will be distributed to successful applicants from October. The grants can be used for fit-out costs, tendering or establishment costs, or to pay for necessary equipment to support the new service. The Before and After School Care Fund will help to deliver up to 45,000 additional OSHC places in government and non-government schools. The funding in the budget will go a long way to relieving the pressure that families face when trying to enrol their children in before and after school care.

JOBS GROWTH CONTINUES FOR BOOMING NSW

Official labour force figures released last week show NSW remains the standout for the nation, with strong jobs growth and a fall in unemployment. ABS data showed 15,300 jobs were created in NSW in May and NSW is the number one economy in Australia. The policies of the NSW Government have helped to create 205,400 jobs in NSW Since April 2011, more than any other state. The NSW unemployment rate fell 0.2 percentage points in May, and is now 5.7 per cent, below the national average of 6 per cent and has now been at or below the national average for 18 of the last 19 months. Last week parliament passed legislation to enable a 99-year lease of 49 per cent of the 'poles and wires', and now we are creating even more jobs by getting on with the task of providing better roads and railways, new schools and hospitals, and other vital infrastructure. The jobs data comes after the Westpac-Melbourne Institute Consumer Confidence Index this week confirmed NSW consumers are the most confident in Australia. Confidence is high, jobs are being created, and the pipeline of work ahead of us is clear and unprecedented. We will keep working tirelessly to boost the economy and jobs in NSW even further.

Remember your first job?

We have an eighteen year old, now in his final year at school. What will his career be we are yet to see.

At various stages in life boys may want to emulate their heroes. As a toddler they may watch TV shows such as Fireman Sam, Bob the Builder or Postman Pat. Later in life they may visualise themselves as a first grade Rugby League player or Test Cricketer such things dreams maybe made off. What were your dreams and aspirations?

Like many I had no idea of what lay ahead, career wise, whilst I was at High School. Unlike many, I was not that keen on sport. Nor could I see myself in manual type employment, although I think my father would have liked it if I had become a welder or boilermaker or some such thing. I also believe that one has to make their own opportunities to work for them.

Our 18 year old has done well at school in food technology and he has worked at Red Rooster and Northmead Pizza, although he does not see his future in this area.

I had an interest in business whilst at school, my heroes in my younger days were people like Sir Theo Kelly (then Chairman of Woolworths Ltd), John Spalvins and Ron Brierley. My father once owning a retail store in England, had me thinking of perhaps a retail career and eventually owning my own retail chain bearing my name. This was not to be however. Retail did interest me greatly and whilst still at High School and a couple of weeks shy of turning 15 years, I saw an advertisement for Management trainees to join Woolworths. I applied and was called into the Head Office for Woolworths for an interview. I must have impressed the interviewer greatly because before I got back home a telegram had arrived at home asking me to report to their Auburn store to start work. I enjoyed working with the staff at Auburn, although I did not enjoy the style of management at the store. After around two years. I went to work at a menswear store in the city. J. B. Croft & Co. Pty. Ltd which specialised in making trousers. They had a slogan "Croft's, The Trouser House, just a couple of strides from Railway Square". J. B. Croft was owned by two fine old gentlemen Messrs Clarke & Miles who had a trouser and uniform manufacturing business above the store and had exclusive rights to the CSIRO developed permanent press system called Siroset. They wanted me to train to become a tailor, but I did not think I was cut out for that. I stayed with the company for around six months. Whilst with Croft's, my elder sister said to me "You've always liked ships" which I had ever since coming out to Australia by ship six or seven years earlier. She continued "Why don't you consider joining Customs?" I thought about it and thought that could be interesting, boarding various ships and checking through cargo and luggage of passengers. I dropped Customs a line (wrote a letter) to seek how about one would go joining. The response was that one had to sit for an entrance examination to join the Public Service, fortunately the examination was held on a Saturday afternoon just around the corner from J. B. Croft's. In those days stores closed at noon on a Saturday, so after work, one Saturday, I sat for the entrance examination and was successful. This was in 1964 and the Prime Minister of the day R. G. Menzies had announced during the election campaign a policy of introducing "Home Savings Grants" for young married couples under the age of 36 years buying their first home. So instead of joining Customs, I was asked to report to the newly created Commonwealth Department of Housing. As the Home Savings Grant scheme was not quite up and running the new Department was to include the "War Service Homes Division" of the Repatriation Department so there I worked for a while, until the Home Savings Grants system was up and running. A later policy announcement saw the establishment of the Home Loans Insurance Corporation which was also attached to the Department. I worked in various sections of the Department of Housing from 1964 until 1971 then I transferred to the then Commonwealth Electoral Office which later became the Australian Electoral Commission and continued working there until 1996. Towards the end of my Public Service life, I did in fact manage to work with Customs for a very short while, not as a Customs Officer but as a member of a selection panel interviewing and selecting people who either were seeking promotion within Customs or applying from other Government Departments to work in Customs. Whilst working in the Public Service and after my retirement my various interests in writing, elections, music and radio served me in many ways. I became a columnist for a few publications including the "Hills TV Magazine", "Hills News", "Galston & District News", and "Dooral Roundup". I became a programme producer and presenter on the local Hills based radio station now known as "Alive 90.5", I also started my own private election company

Ready to start work in a suit borrowed from my father. I did eventually grow into it.

"Metro-Poll" which specialises in managing elections for licenced clubs and also Credit Unions after I left the Public Service.

As for that chain of stores I once imagined, that just remained a dream. I now own my own business in a field that I never once imagined. As for our 18 year old, whatever he ends up doing I hope he will enjoy. The internet and computerisation has changed businesses and occupations in ways never before imagined when I was at school and it is continuing to evolve. Printing and publishing are more and more going on-line. Retailing is also going the same way. Opportunities are still there for many but they need to consider the changing environment and be able to adapt to the changes.

Now how about you?

Aussie Pumps

EFFLUENT PUMP

Australian Pump has announced the availability of a new cost effective single phase submersible pump designed for septic tank applications. Called the UT series, the pump is manufactured by Tsurumi Pump,
the world's largest submersible pump manufacturer.

Designed specifically for effluent and sewage applications, the pump is fitted with a unique vortex style impeller that passes compressible solids of up to 35mm in diameter. Australian Pump claims these cast iron pumps produce great flow versus head characteristics and are extremely efficient. Maximum flow available from the range is 440 lpm while maximum lift, or vertical head is 12.5 metres.

The pumps are powered by single phase, capacitor start, electric motors in the range of 0.4kW to 0.75kW. All pumps are supplied with a heavy duty 10 metre submersible cable.

"The UT series are loaded with features designed to give home owners and operators the best possible longevity and low maintenance costs," said Aussie Pumps' Craig Bridgement. "The best news for customers is our ability to match the quality and features of the pump with a low purchase cost. We've been able to slash prices by 35% based on our expanded volumes," he said.

The pump's motor is a dry type squirrel cage induction style housed in a watertight casing. It conforms to class E insulation and the UT pumps can be used in ambient temperatures of up to 40 degrees C.

The motor features an inbuilt thermal motor protection device that reacts to the heat generated by an over current or dry run conditions. This not only cuts off the motor automatically, but also resets by itself. That means that when the motor cools down to a safe operating temperature, the motor automatically re-starts.

The UT series incorporate a vortex impeller that is highly resistant to abrasion. Performance is largely unaffected by minor wear. The unique vortex design allows solids in suspension to easily pass through the pump.

Tsurumi incorporate a number of features that enhance the life expectancy of the pump and cut maintenance costs. These include a unique anti-wicking cable gland. Water is prevented from wicking down inside the cable. The motor is protected even if the cable is damaged or the end accidentally immersed.

All Tsurumi pumps have a double silicon carbide mechanical seal. Both seal surfaces are submerged in an oil chamber, well away from the pumped liquid.
A patented oil lifter ensures the mechanical seal faces are always lubricated and cooled, even if the pump is installed horizontally.

Tsurumi Pump developed the product range in response to requirements in the Japanese market for super tough pumps for sewage applications. Like all of their pumps, they are backed by a three year warranty against faulty material or workmanship.

The Tsurumi UT series are not only available as standard effluent pumps, but also come as automatic stop/start versions that feature a simple float control system that prevents dry running, reduces power consumption and extends operating life.

Further information on the complete range of Tsurumi submersible pumps is available on the Australian Pump website (www.aussiepumps.com.au) and from Aussie Pump Distributors
throughout Australia.

The Tsurumi UT series single phase sewage pump is a cost effective solution for rural septic tanks.

At 11:30am local Federal Member, Michelle Rowland, will officially unveil the replica of the Honor Roll which had sat above the fireplace in the Railway Station waiting room from the time it was unveiled on 28th October 1918 until it mysteriously disappeared in the late 1970s, early 80s. At the time members of the Riverstone Historical Society and local historian Sam Lane had interviewed anyone who may have had knowledge of the whereabouts of the roll, but without success.

Child Care and Medical Centre Move In To Council Complex

The Hills Shire Council has agreed to two new tenants leases - a medical centre and child care centre - for Building C at 3 Columbia Court, Norwest Business Park, Baulkham Hills.

In 2013, Council moved from its administration building on Showground Road, Castle Hill to make way for the construction of the North West Rail Link. Council purchased a building complex in Norwest with floor space for additional commercial leases.

Hills Shire Mayor Clr Andrew Jefferies said that Council now has much of the free space filled, generating a revenue stream to assist Council to provide new amenities for residents and businesses in and around Norwest.

The new tenants are in addition to Maurice's Café, which has operated at Council for 12 months.

Mr Henry Bateman, General Manager of Medical Centres for Primary Health Care, said that The Hills Medical and Dental Centre would be open from 7am-10pm on weekdays, 8am-10pm on weekends and public holidays and offer a very wide range of medical services to Hills residents.

Mayor Jefferies Not In Favour Of Parramatta City Council Proposal

A Parramatta City Council proposal to expand their boundaries well into The Hills Shire Council Local Government Area (LGA) will prop up their finances at the expense of Hills ratepayers, said Hills Shire Mayor Clr Andrew Jefferies.

Mayor Jefferies said that while he had a strong working relationship with Parramatta City Council and Lord Mayor Clr Scott Lloyd, he could not support a proposal that was essentially "robbing Peter to pay Paul."

"The suburbs of Carlingford, North Rocks, Winston Hills, Northmead and parts of Baulkham Hills, south and west of the M2 Motorway would be hived off to Parramatta City Council under this proposal. It's our firm view that The M2, built in 1997 is not an effective natural boundary, nor does it stand a community of interest test. A far better boundary between our two LGAs would be Pennant Hills Road and Old Windsor Road."

Mayor Jefferies said that The Hills Shire Council's preferred amalgamation option, which received support from 74 per cent of 1208 respondents in a recent survey, would unite the currently divided suburbs of Northmead, Carlingford, Winston Hills, Baulkham Hills and North Rocks under The Hills Shire Council, while Oatlands would go entirely to Parramatta.

"As a Fit for the Future Council, The Hills approach to Local Government reform has been logical and reflects strong communities of interest, planning relationships, natural boundaries and a sense of local identity."

"The Hills Shire Council has no debt, delivered 14 straight years of surplus budgets and was given a strong financial rating from Treasury Corporation. Parramatta only has a moderate rating and carries significant debt. Parramatta's plan, by cutting the Hills off at the M2, only hurts Hills ratepayers."
