Arcadian Artists Celebrate 25 Years on 7th - 8th November 2015

In the rural district of Arcadia twenty five years ago, a small group of artists opened their studios to their neighbours & the local community who embraced the idea. It soon became an annual event. This unique exhibition has, over time, expanded to include a wide range of Artists & Artisans who represent many different disciplines in the Arts.

Connected by a beautiful, meandering country drive, seven working studios have more than fifty Artists & Artisans exhibiting their wares.

Throughout the years the Arcadian Artists have endeavoured to support & provide an avenue for both experienced and emerging artists from inside & outside the community to showcase their creative talents. This year it will be held on 7th & 8th November. Brochures will be available from the information stand outside Bendigo Bank in Galston. Many locations have morning and afternoon tea available, plus some are catering for lunch too. Why not come along and enjoy our displays and purchase some gifts for Christmas.

The Significance of Windsor Bridge

Key Issues

"The Windsor Bridge has a high level of historic, technical, aesthetic and social significance as an important historical and physical landmark in one of the State's pre-eminent historic towns, and in the wider Sydney region.". NSW RMS Heritage and Conservation register.

Under Option One, this "... important historical and physical landmark in one of the State's pre-eminent historic towns" will be demolished. By these words alone the project is condemned.

Windsor Bridge is unique. It is historically significant. It is technically significant. Its contribution to the visual narrative of "one of the State's pre-eminent historic towns" is recognised and well documented. It is a bridge of outstanding significance.

Indeed, it is robustly contended the current Windsor Bridge, in addition to its status as an item of State heritage significance, is an item of National historic and engineering significance.

I. History

The design of the bridge came from the NSW Department of Public Works and construction was the work of William King Dixon and Andrew Turnbull, both notable engineers in the colony. Dixon came to the colony to work on the first railway in NSW and Andrew Turnbull was an experienced bridge builder who became business partners with Dixon before his (Dixon's) death. Andrew Turnbull went on to build many other bridges in the state including over Cattai Creek and Wisemans Ferry Road.

In 1897 the bridge deck was raised by 2.4 metres (approx). This project, like the original construction, was considered a substantial Public Works project for its time. Further work in 1922, replacing the timber beam structure and deck with precast reinforced concrete, was acknowledged at its opening as 'unique'. (Edds)

Recent research (Wedgewood and Brassil) has revealed it is the earliest use of precast concrete girders in NSW bridge construction, some 30 years before the technology of pre-stressing was sufficiently advanced to allow the general use of precast structural beams.

This early timeframe is relevant when considering the establishment by the Department of Public Works (PWD) of the State Monier Pipe and reinforced Concrete Works in NSW in 1915. It is thought the PWD engineers of the day may have been pushing the envelope with the use of precast beams in order to explore, test and demonstrate the potential of the Monier Works. (Wedgewood)

Today the site adjacent to the bridge retains its potential to reveal important archaeological evidence that predates the bridge and is relevant to the former punt crossing, the first wharf of 1795 and the much grander later wharf of 1815. (Edds)

II. Technical Significance

Engineering Australia, in their EIS response, attribute the bridge with substantial heritage value, making specific reference to the cast iron piers.

The RMS Heritage and Conservation register acknowledges this element, saying, "The iron cylinders, each three-foot-six-inches long, were filled with concrete and bolted into the rock, penetrating twelve feet of water, twenty-six feet of sand and twelve feet of loose rock to reach a solid footing" going on to say, "The bridge represents a major engineering project in the State for its time, the piers penetrating 15-20 metres below the water surface, and its construction proceeding through flood conditions."

In fact, Windsor Bridge exemplifies and demonstrates two distinct historical phases in bridge building: the technologies employed in NSW in the later nineteenth century and then the technical innovations of the first quarter of the twentieth century.

- The late nineteenth century:

The 1874 bridge has piers made of cast iron cylinders more usually associated with railway bridges but here designed to resist the severe flooding experienced by the Hawkesbury. The simpler timber structure and deck of the upper construction was more usually employed in the construction of road bridges.

Whilst neither construction method is, in itself, unusual, the amalgamation of these two separate technologies in a bridge constructed in the 1870s, is however, extremely rare.

III. Aesthetics

The Bridge is a visually modest structure: its scale and proportions consistent with its location and historic context. There is an honesty and lack of pretention in its design. It is functional and reflects the technologies of its construction without unnecessary decoration.

The deck and road are purposeful and uncompromising. It is the river vistas that reveal the Bridge's real charm. The simplicity and proportions of the piers and the engineering of the cross bracing speak of technical resolution to the challenges of its location.

The approach road, which has evolved over time is equally harmonious with the immediate heritage landscape comprising Colonial, Georgian and Victorian structures.

COMMUNITY ACTION FOR WINDSOR BRIDGE (CAWB)

by Kathleen Mackaness

Minister Gay Determined To Make Cawb Pay Govt Court Costs Minister Gay's determination, (as reported on radio 702 news broadcast 28.10.15) to sue CAWB for legal costs is punitive and in defiance of the apparent intention of L&EC Rules 2007 - Reg 4.2 (See screenshot page 2), says CAWB President, Pete Reynolds Yesterday, more than twelve months after the court case was heard in the Land and Environment Court, CAWB learnt its case had been dismissed. An unsurprised Pete Reynolds says it was always going to be a tough gig.

"The legislation introduced by this Government removed our previous right to appeal on the merits of such a project. We were restricted to an appeal on an administrative basis.

"Quite frankly this decision doesn't change anything. Option One is still a bad plan and CAWB is still fighting it, despite Minister Gay's decision to pursue us for the government's legal costs."

Pete says the CAWB corporate structure is a response to just such an eventuality.

"As a cause, CAWB is thousands of concerned community members, however in legal terms just eight very brave people make up the legal entity known as 'CAWB'" he says.

"This was a deliberate and courageous decision," says CAWB supporter, Kate Mackaness, "designed to quarantine the damage and protect supporters from the type of punitive action now being pursued by Minister Gay."

"The Minister is suing eight innocent people for saying they would risk everything in defense Thompson Square. If Minister Gay is successful, they will probably lose their homes protecting a place every independent expert report says is too precious to allow the RMS to do what they propose.

"We were right to be worried about Minister Gay seeking costs," Kate adds. "His action further undermines our rights as a community to a healthy, democratic and robust debate about the future of this State."

Aussie Pumps

STAY SAFE ... FIRE PUMPS GO DIESEL

With a deepening El-Nino, Fire Authorities are urging Hills district residents to prepare fire protection plans now. Good winter rains and warm temperatures have led to record undergrowth which will turn to fuel with only a few hot days.

"In many areas hazard reduction burns haven't been possible and fuel levels are a real concern," said Aussie Pumps Product Manager, Brad Farrugia. "Everyone needs to understand that we could be looking at our worst ever fire season. It's time to develop a fire safe plan and we believe our diesel fire pumps are the safest option for property and personal protection," he said.

Aussie Pumps and Yanmar have developed a range of diesel fire pumps that combine performance with diesel reliability, safety and economy. The range includes single and twin impeller pumps suitable for property and livestock protection and bushfire control.

Designed to Perform

The Yanmar powered Aussie Fire Chief and Mr T twin impeller pumps offer performance teamed with diesel reliability, safety and economy. Flows to 450 lpm and heads to 90 metres are achieved with due to the pumps efficient hydraulic design matched to engines that deliver more than sufficient power.

That performance is made possible by the pumps "big belly body" and superbly balanced impeller/ volute design. Impellers and volutes are heavy duty, not lightweight and are built to provide sustained performance through the products' life.

Buyer Beware

"When customers buy the Aussie Yanmar product, they know they are getting a five year warranty on the pump end, that's unique in the pump industry, and a two year warranty on a Yanmar engine that is built to the highest international standard," he said.

In an emergency, water has to be drawn from any available source including pools, dams and creeks. It is vital that the pump can self-prime efficiently and fast. Aussie Pumps' range of Yanmar fire pumps can draft water from vertical depths as low as 7.6 metres.

Ready for Attack

The diesel engines selected by the company are all from Yanmar's "L" series of high speed, air-cooled diesel engines. The Yanmars offer low fuel consumption, even when running at high speed.

"Diesel fuel is a safer option in a bushfire emergency because refuelling may be required while under ember attack," said Farrugia. "The Yanmars are also easy to start because the recoil system uses an auto-return decompressor," he said.

Easy Service

To enable users to prepare for the fire season, Aussie Pumps has teamed with Yanmar to produce an 'Essential Spares Parts' engine service kit. The kit contains only genuine Yanmar parts. It includes all the replacement filters and strainers as well as the correct grade oil required for a routine engine service.

Seal and o-ring kits for the range of Aussie fire pumps are also readily available.

"At the start of the season we urge all users to run their pumps, to ensure they start easily, that the batteries are charged and to check there are no leaks in the system," said Farrugia. "We cover the full list of pre-season checks in our 'Fire Safe Survival Plan'. This is available free for everyone, not just our pump customers," he said.

Unknown Body

A body has been located on a property near Dunedoo (in the state's central west), where police arrested Gino and Mark Stocco.

The men were arrested at a property on Tonniges Road at Elong Elong shortly before midday of Wednesday 28 October 2015, following a covert operation involving officers from Western Region, New England Local Area Command, the Tactical Operations Unit, Aviation Support Branch, and State Crime Command's Robbery and Serious Crime Squad.

Following the arrests, police located the body of a man at the property.

While he has not yet been formally identified, it is believed to be that of a 68-year-old man who has been missing since Thursday 8 October 2015.

The cause of his death is not yet known.

A crime scene has been established at the property and will be examined by specialist forensic officers.

Strike Force Peta has been formed by detectives from the State Crime Command's Robbery and Serious Crime Squad to investigate the incident.

Police are urging anyone with information in relation to this incident to call Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000 or use the Crime Stoppers online reporting page: <https://nsw.crimestoppers.com.au/> Information you provide will be treated in the strictest of confidence. We remind people they should not report crime information via our Facebook and Twitter pages.

Suspended License

Around 2am on Tuesday 27 October, police were patrolling Windsor Street, Richmond when they noticed a vehicle travelling in the opposite direction. Checks revealed that the vehicle may have been driven by a suspended driver. The vehicle was stopped and police confirmed that the 23 year old Grose Wold woman had her licence suspended in May this year. As a result, she will now be required to attend Windsor Local Court to answer a charge of "Drive While Suspended."

SHOWTIME

Filipino movie 'Heneral Luna'

Epic Filipino movie 'Heneral Luna' to be screened in Wetherill Park on 31st October at 2pm (First Sydney Screening at Hoyts Blacktown already sold out) ... all to raise funds for Smokey Mountain children.

The film Heneral Luna has been selected as the Philippine entry for the Best Foreign Language Film at the 88th Academy Awards. This is one of the most expensive Filipino epic historical films ever released. Set during the Philippine-American war, a short-tempered Filipino general faces an enemy more formidable than the American army: his own treacherous countrymen.

On September 29, 2015, it broke previous record of Php160 million to become the highest grossing Filipino historical film of all time, despite a 50% discount offered to student viewers. By the beginning of its fourth week the film was well on its way to reaching the Php200 million gross ticket sales. On October 11, it was officially announced that the film had reached its Php240M breakeven point. This is no ordinary movie!

Official Website: www.henerallunathemovie.com

Only released last month, this Filipino historical biopic film depicts General Antonio Luna's leadership of the Philippine Revolutionary Army during the Philippine-American War. It opens with the beginning of hostilities with the American colonizers, and ends with the assassination of Luna on June 5, 1899 - a period in which Luna served as Supreme Chief of the Army under the First Philippine Republic.

Heneral Luna screens in Sydney for the first time on 30th October at Hoyts Blacktown at 7pm and this session is already sold out.

Another screening has been organized at Hoyts Wetherill Park on Saturday, 31st October at 2pm for which tickets are still available online at $25. <http://www.eventbrite.com.au/e/heneral-luna-2nd-screening-wethirell-park-sydney-tickets-19056570716?aff=es2>

What makes this event so special is that funds raised from the Sydney screenings will go to help two wonderful charities for children in some of the most disadvantaged parts of the Philippines, including children at Smokey Mountain. This 4 minute video was recently compiled by one of the Sydney film organisers who made this all possible, Bettina Johnson-Green: <https://www.facebook.com/bettina.johnsongreen/videos/10207617174407863/>

Companion Planting for Insect Management

by Laura Rittenhouse

www.laurarittenhouse.com

In early October I wrote an article about the use of pesticides, or, more accurately, an article against the use of pesticides. I'm not going to repeat my arguments here, I'm just going to jump right in with an alternative to using chemicals to control insects in your garden.

Companion planting for insect management (as opposed to companion planting for improved plant health) is a three-pronged approach: attract beneficial insects, repel undesirable insects, and lure away pests. Though many plants fill more than one role, the way they work is distinct. Below I'll briefly explain each one and offer examples that might work for you.

Beneficial insect attractors produce flowers and leaves that bring in helpful insects to pollinate neighbouring plants, eat pests or control problems like mould. Sage (and all salvias), borage and a long list of flowering plants bring pollinators flocking to your garden. Dill attracts predatory wasps.

Repellent plants emit aromas that are either so intense they stop insects from finding nearby yummy plants or so vile pests flee. Lavender and chives are examples of plants in this category.

Sacrificial plants entice bad insects to themselves, allowing other plants to flourish. Nasturtiums attract both aphids and cabbage moth.

One thing to aim for with your companion planting is to keep your insect management going year-round. You don't want good insects to run out of food and move elsewhere any more than you want pests to get a foothold when your prize roses are the only tasty thing to eat.

This is just the tip of the iceberg but hopefully enough so that next time you have a pest problem you'll consider reaching for a seed catalogue rather than a pesticide bottle.

Bushfire Smart Native Gardens

In any area subject to bush fires, attention must be given to proper planning and regular maintenance of gardens. An article published in the March 1994 issue of "Native Plants for New South Wales", the newsletter of the Society's NSW Region, suggested some of the factors that should be considered.

- Plant trees at least 5 m from house to allow clear access. Have paved sections such as paths and barbecue areas and/or a pebble garden with herbs near to the house.
- Space trees and shrubs to avoid continuous canopy that may carry fire. Careful arrangement of plants is essential. Don't have trees that overhang the house.
- Use plants around the house that can be pruned when fire threatens. Trees and shrubs with lignotubers will re-sprout and recover quickly if it is necessary to cut them back hard in the face of threatening fire.
- Monitor the growth of trees and shrubs so that pruning is maintained, dead limbs removed, and leaves put into compost bins with lids.
- Avoid combustible door mats and brush fences.
- Avoid growing Conifers, rough fibrous bark trees such as Syncarpia glomulifera and trees that have loose bark near the house.

- All plants, whether they are exotic or Australian, will burn when subjected to sufficient heat.

Nevertheless, native trees, shrubs and groundcovers of the rainforest type, if correctly sited, conserve moisture, serve as a wind break and absorb and deflect radiant heat from the fire and act as a barrier to flying sparks and embers. These plants also look nice, attract wildlife into the garden and do well in the right positions.

The following plants are some of the suitable plants for a bush fire smart garden:

Trees: Acmena smithii, Alectryon subcinereus, Callicoma serratifolia, Cassine australis, Diospyros australis, Eleocarpus reticulatus, Glochidion ferdinandi, Hymenosporum flavum, Rapanea howittiana, Acacia elata, Angophora costata.

Shrubs: Banksia integrifolia, Acacia saligna, Acacia terminalis, Banksia marginata, Bursaria spinosa, Dodonaea spp., Einadia hastata, Grevillea spp.

Groundcovers: Auga australis, Carpobrotus glaucescens, Dichondra repens, Einadia nutans, Eremophila debilis, Hardenbergia violacea, Kennedia rubicunda, Myoporum parvifolium, Pelargonium spp., Scaevola spp.

Knowing your local history. by Trevor Patrick

Roads were the key to progress of the colony where settlers moved along them in an ever-expanding farmland. The first northern street in Parramatta was named Pennant Street to honour Thomas Pennant, author and friend of Arthur Phillip and Joseph Banks. It began at the Parramatta Leagues Club and joined the farms of modern day Dundas, Mobbs Hill and Carlingford. In mid 19th century portion of the street's name was changed to Victoria Road.

Assistant Surveyor Heneage Finch designed a major road to link the colony of Sydney to the Hunter Valley in 1825. Governor Ralph Darling employed convicts in road building with two gangs at Castle Hill North totalling 67 men. Another road gang of 35 men was sent from Parramatta to 'the North Road at Wisemans'.

You now know where the first northern street of Parramatta began, its name and what name it carries today. You can discover the secrets of Castle Hill, Thompson Corner, The Great North Road, Wisemans Ferry and much more in the award winning book 'In Search of the Pennant Hills' which gives you fascinating details of life in the colony from the day Governor Arthur Phillip stepped ashore. Richly illustrated with historic pictures and maps it reveals the location of treasured sites where momentous events were played. The beautiful 208 page A4 size book cost only $60.

Breathless
Saturday 7 November - 8:30pm
Series Premiere

#ourABC

Secrets, lies and passion smoulder beneath the glamorous and stylish world of the early 1960s, in the brand new six-part drama Breathless.

With Britain on the brink of a sexual revolution, the doctors and nurses of a London gynaecology unit are kept busy. Away from the hospital, however, they are fighting complex personal battles of their own.

Admired and envied, charismatic surgeon Otto (Jack Davenport) and his wife Elizabeth (Natasha Little) are the perfect couple, but a secret lurks beneath the immaculate surface of their marriage which could ruin them both. Best friend Charlie (Shaun Dingwall) is starting to buckle under the pressure of keeping the confidences of their shared past; while the dream marriage of sexy nurse Jean (Zoe Boyle) to ambitious doctor, Richard (Oliver Chris), is under threat before it has even begun.

A chance sighting of Otto at the hospital by Chief Inspector Mulligan (Iain Glen) sets in motion the drudging up of an event from Otto's past that will threaten his entire existence and that of his wife and son.

Making Families Happy
Tuesday 10 November - 8:30pm
Final

#ourABC

Making Families Happy follows three Australian families in crisis as they embark on a world first experiment led by two elite psychologists. Can scientific tools make the families happier in only eight weeks?

The three families enter the final leg of their happiness journey, but experts John and Clare still have doubts about whether the experiment will end with them all achieving a happiness score higher than 70. Any figure above that means that they are genuinely happy.

John hosts a family quiz night to see which family knows each other best. A shared family history is important to happiness, and research shows that children who know their extended family's stories of success and failure do better in life. Ashleigh - who has been absent from many of the sessions - is present, and the experts are optimistic that she is back on board with the experiment.

However, Steve and Skye are facing a crisis. After Skye walked from last week's counselling session, she feels the end of their relationship may be close.

Amanda, whose business is facing financial crisis, takes John's advice and meets with a financial counsellor, allowing her to start to get a grip on one of the stresses that are affecting her relationship with daughter, Amelia.

Clare visits the McDonalds. While she is there, Ashleigh returns home, and Clare witnesses a bitter row between mother and daughter. Can a mindful listening exercise between mother and daughter be the key to solving the McDonald families' problems?

With the experiment coming to an end, the families read letters of affirmation to each other that reveal how they really feel - and how those feelings have changed over eight weeks. But as tears are shed, and old loves re-discovered, how much have their scores really changed?

Short Synopsis

The families are in the final stretch. Stress levels rise, and resentments explode. John and Clare struggle to ensure that all the families see a rise in their happiness levels. Will the eight-week experiment succeed?

Dogs: Their Secret Lives
Monday, 2 November at 7.35pm on SBS (4-Parts)
New Episode

Increasingly man's best friend is spending more time home alone, but what goes on when you're not there? Through hidden cameras and a groundbreaking new study from the world's leading dog scientists, we reveal what man's best friend gets up to while we're out.

Mark Evans, former chief vet at the RSPCA UK, investigates what it all means for the 21st-century dog owner.

The series also addresses the modern-day issues facing our cute and cuddly pets, including obesity, aggression and mental health.

Episode Three: Dogs Behaving Badly

What can make our dogs aggressive and how can we treat them? Find out how our preconceptions about breeds might be wrong and how understanding dog body language could prevent attacks.

Wednesday 11 November, 9:30pm
The Paedophile Next Door

This thought-provoking documentary sets out to discover why UK legislation to protect children from sexual abuse appears to have failed, and explores radical and controversial alternatives.

Britain has a growing problem, with child sex abuse scandals breaking almost on a weekly basis. Dangerous predators appear to be everywhere and children are at risk.

This program delves beneath the sensationalism to challenge the public's perspective on the issue that continues to dominate headlines.

Steve Humphries is an acclaimed historian and award-winning film maker who has long been passionate about child protection. He has made several films on the issue of child sexual abuse, most notably Sex in a Cold Climate which broke the story of abuse in the Catholic Church back in the 1990s.

The documentary follows Steve on a journey to discover more about Britain's 'paedophile problem'. He examines how the current state of crisis has developed and explores radical new ideas and previously unheard perspectives that may help improve the protection of children.

The program includes powerful testimony from survivors of unimaginable abuse as well as hearing from controversial experts who believe that, in order to keep children safe, society needs to completely revolutionise how it 'deals with' paedophiles; including listening to them in an effort to try and 'understand them'.

Incredibly, the documentary also includes an interview with a paedophile who comes out on camera to offer his own perspective.

Short Synopsis

This thought-provoking documentary sets out to discover why UK legislation to protect children from sexual abuse appears to have failed, and explores radical and controversial alternatives.

Sunday Best: Supersize Me
Sunday 08 November - 8:30pm

Why are Americans so fat? Find out in the 2004 doco Super Size Me, a tongue-in-cheek - and burger-in-hand - look at the legal, financial and physical costs of America's hunger for fast food.

Ominously, 37% of American children and adolescents are carrying too much fat and 2 out of every three adults are overweight or obese. Is it our fault for lacking self-control, or are the fast-food corporations to blame?

Filmmaker Morgan Spurlock hit the road and interviewed experts in 20 U.S. cities, including Houston, the "Fattest City" in America. From Surgeon Generals to gym teachers, cooks to kids, lawmakers to legislators, these authorities shared their research, opinions and "gut feelings" on our ever-expanding girth.

During the journey, Spurlock also put his own body on the line, living on nothing but McDonald's for an entire month with three simple rules:

- 1) No options: he could only eat what was available over the counter (water included!)
- 2) No supersizing unless offered
- 3) No excuses: he had to eat every item on the menu at least once

It all adds up to a fat food bill, harrowing visits to the doctor, and compelling viewing for anyone who's ever wondered if man could live on fast food alone. The film explores the horror of school lunch programs, declining health and physical education classes, food addictions and the extreme measures people take to lose weight and regain their health.

Super Size Me is a satirical jab in the stomach, overstuffed with fat and facts about the billion-dollar industry besieged by doctors, lawyers and nutritionists alike. "Would you like fries with that?" will never sound the same!

Genius
Sunday, 8 November at 8.35pm
New Series Premiere

Genius tells the story of the men and women that changed the way we live. These are the heroes, legendary icons, luminaries who changed the world through monumental innovations and staggering ingenuity. They gave us the aeroplane and the television, the six-gun, the A-bomb and the iPod...or at least they take credit for it.

But behind every great genius is a great rival, an unstoppable adversary with incredible vision, determination and ambition. Out of their struggles came breakthroughs, the spoils of the heated battle between competitors. In this new four-part series, we hear the stories of how the ultimate rivals for posterity clashed, lost everything or triumphed. Genius reveals the fateful forces behind the greatest competitions for innovation and the contests that pit history's brightest minds against each other in the race to lay claim to the future.

Amanda Keller: My life and other palaver
When: Tues 10 Nov - 6.30pm to 7.30pm
Where: Vinegar Hill Memorial Library, Rouse Hill
Tickets: $7.50
 Amanda Keller's intelligence, warmth and laser-sharp wit has endeared her to generations of Australian TV and radio audiences. In Natural Born Keller we meet the real Amanda Keller – from the cheeky kid in sunny Brisbane who teased her older brother mercilessly, to the daggy teen in the Sydney 'burbs who endured her adoring mother's knitwit obsession, to the earnest young diarist writing about her massive crush on Barry Manilow.

As one of Australia's most loved media personalities, Amanda's memoir provides lots of fascinating and funny insights into the inner workings of the entertainment industry and the diverse personalities within it.

THROUGH STATE MP'S EYES by David Elliott, Member for Baulkham Hills

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

The NSW Government has announced a $60 million package to target perpetrators and support women, men and children who have experienced domestic and family violence (DFV).

The package includes new Police Domestic Violence High-Risk Offender Teams to target perpetrators and reduce the rate of reoffending. The package also includes DFV Suspect Target Management Plans that will put offenders on notice, as well as mandated behaviour change programs to make perpetrators address their behaviour.

In addition, the package will increase crisis accommodation support for victims and introduce Australia's first Domestic Violence Disclosure Scheme, which discloses information about a perpetrator's violent history, and provide a stronger response to sexual assault.

The NSW Government is supporting victims and targeting perpetrators of this insidious crime to stop the violence before it occurs.

Sadly, too many people in our community suffer domestic and family violence at the hands of someone they know and trust.

Domestic violence is a crime. I am calling on the community to join me in saying enough is enough.

This is the first stage of the NSW Government's increased investment into DFV. The Government is currently working with the non-government sector to analyse service gaps through a DFV Blueprint. This work will be completed in 2016.

Here in the Hills, the level of domestic violence has dropped ten percent in the last quarter. This is indicative of the great work done by The Hills Local Area Command, but more can always be done to eradicate this scourge.

NSW INVESTS AN ADDITIONAL $113 MILLION MORE IN STUDENTS WHO NEED IT MOST

Baulkham Hills public schools will benefit from a share of the record $113 million in additional funding announced by the NSW Government to support public school students who need it most.

The needs-based funding, which has been implemented as part of the NSW Liberals & Nationals commitment to the Gonski agreement, is delivering more funding to students in a fair and transparent way.

In 2016, local public schools will receive $5,243,993.

This substantial ongoing investment in public education is fantastic news for our schools, and will further boost their efforts to deliver improved student results.

The funding for 2016, made possible by NSW being the first state to sign the Gonski agreement, means NSW students will benefit from needs-based funding totalling $860 million, distributed through the Resource Allocation Model.

Examples of local needs-based funding allocations in Baulkham Hills include:

- Excelsior Public School will receive $347,160, which is an increase of $190,818 on 2015;
- Matthew Pearce Public School will receive $739,675, which is an increase of $188,118 on 2015; and
- Murray Farm Public School will receive $696,138, which is an increase of $136,572 on 2015.

This needs-based funding can be used in a variety of ways, including employing speech pathologists or specialist teachers to target learning areas.

Through the NSW Government's Local Schools, Local Decisions reform, principals in all NSW public schools are making local decisions on how to use these funds to improve student outcomes.

STUDENTS AWARDED FOR EXCELLENCE IN COMMUNITY LANGUAGES

Congratulations to Suhasini Shanmugarajan on receiving a Minister's Award for Excellence in Student Achievement in Community Languages.

Only ten NSW students received the Minister's Awards for Excellence in Student Achievement Community Languages Schools at a special ceremony in Sydney on Monday (29 September 2015).

Suhasini won the Minister's award for consistently applying herself to extending her knowledge of the Tamil language and has gained outstanding results in speech, writing and reading competitions.

Suhasini will be sitting for her HSC Tamil exam in 2015 as an accelerated subject and has been a leader in Tamil cultural events in the school and in the local community.

In 2015, there are nearly 32,000 government and non-government students studying at 493 Community Languages School locations.

The community languages programs in these schools are supported by 256 organisations in 53 different languages. Approximately 2,500 volunteer teachers deliver out of school hours programs to the students.

CLAMPING DOWN ON REAL ESTATE UNDERQUOTING - GREAT PROTECTION FOR HILLS HOMEBUYERS

Homebuyers across the Hills will have greater protection when purchasing a property, with strengthened laws set to clamp down on real estate underquoting passing NSW Parliament this week.

These reforms deliver on the NSW Government's 2015 election commitment to crackdown on underquoting in real estate transactions.

Astonishingly, there have been no successful prosecutions related to underquoting made under this Act in 13 years, so this reform is long overdue.

You only need to talk to potential buyers at auctions every weekend to hear their frustration with property underquoting in the market.

Not only are homebuyers dealing with an increasingly competitive market but they often feel completely misled when it comes to the price of properties they are interested in buying, which is pushing their dream of home ownership further out of reach.

Amendments to the Property Stock and Business Agents Act 2002 include:

- Agents will be required to provide evidence of their estimated selling price to the vendor and this estimate must be stated in the agency agreement;
- When marketing a property an agent must only use the estimated selling price provided in the agency agreement;
- Estimated selling price can be a single figure or a price range. If a price range is used, the highest price must not be more than 10% higher than the lowest price;
- Advertisements and representations that say "offers over" or "offers above" or any similar statement will be prohibited;
- Agents will be required to keep a register of prices quoted on a property whether these are provided to the vendor or prospective purchasers.

In addition to the existing penalty of $22,000, agents found guilty of underquoting will be liable to forfeit any commission or fees from the sale

The new laws take effect on 1 January 2016, with information sessions already underway. For more information visit: www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au.

Thorn is a beautiful natured gorgeous boy who was rescued with his siblings from Hawkesbury Animal Shelter as a young 8 week kitten and 8 months later he is still looking for a loving forever home. He is a lovely playful lad who gets on well with other cats and is an indoor cat only. Thorn is litter trained, micro-chipped, desexed, vaccinated, flea treated and wormed for his adoption fee. Please contact us if you are able to give this loving kitten a forever home.

Why advertise in the local TV guide?

- Over 10,000 magazines are picked up by local consumers by choice from stands in local shopping centres, clubs and petrol stations.
- The TV guide is eagerly sought after and in high demand with our pick up rate constantly exceeding 99%.
- A full page ad costs less than printing 10,000 flyers and distribution is free. Rather than being seen as junk mail, it is picked up to be viewed daily.
- As a TV Guide, your ad will be seen again and again over the 16 day period over which the magazine is designed to be kept.
- Value for money, our display advertisements cost less than half of the average cost of other local publications which are viewed once only.
- Local readers support the local advertisers and appreciate and support a local free TV guide.

To enquire or place an ad please email advertise@hillstohawkesbury.com.au for further details or call Belisa Papandrea on 0487 111 868 or the office 1300 616 614

WATERWAYS

We are very fortunate in our area of the Hills-Hawkesbury & Hornby shires in that we enjoy some very beautiful waterways and a number of interesting and historic villages and localities along those same waterways.

I have some very fond memories of local identities that I have come across in the area. I recall with great fondness people like Gordon & Joan Mandin who once operated the historic Macquarie Princess which would cruise from Berowra Waters along Berowra Creek and along the Hawkesbury River. Whilst the vessel still operates from Berowra Waters, Gordon & Joan had to retire a few years back due to ill health. On one occasion I recall that I took some family members from interstate on a cruise on the Macquarie Princess and Gordon allowed me to take the wheel of the vessel for part of the way. Hopefully my wife and I may once again enjoy a cruise on this marvellous vessel sometime in the future.

Another partnership that brings back great memories for me is that of Tom & Hilda McQuillan who together with their son Simon operated Able Hawkesbury House Boats at Wisemans Ferry. I recall that the committee of Sydney Hills Tourism organised a Christmas Party in the late 1980s or early 1990s to be held on a couple of houseboats. As we sailed along the Hawkesbury we had a great time enjoying some of the local seafood. On another occasion my wife and I hired a houseboat from Tom & Hilda and spent around a week travelling along the Hawkesbury and also in to the Colo River stopping wherever to just sit back and relax and watch the world go by. We got trapped by the outgoing tide near the Brooklyn Bridge getting stuck on a sand bank where we sat for quite a few hours until the incoming tide came in and the water became deep enough to set sail once more. Tom McQuillan assured us at the time that we hired the houseboat that we had sufficient fuel to last the week, saying that only once before had someone run out of fuel. Little did he know that I suffer from a wanderlust and after stopping for lunch etc. I became impatient and wanted to explore the Hawkesbury more. I would up anchor start the motor and be off, whereas my wife wanted to just sit and relax. So eventually we did run out of fuel when just off shore from Spencer. Now my wife is much more athletic than myself and I know that she enjoys physical activity much more than myself, so thinking of her and her liking of such activity I suggested that she hop in the "tinny" and row to shore to see if she could locate a telephone so as to telephone the McQuillan's at Wisemans Ferry. This was in the days before we owned mobile phones. She was very fortunate as it was turning dark and she came across a holiday house where the owner was just locking up to travel back to his more permanent home.

Simon McQuillan was fairly quickly on the scene with a spare jerry can of fuel and refueled the houseboat so that we could continue on our travels and exploration of the Hawkesbury and its tributaries.

Another thing that I discovered was to be on the lookout for oyster leases, otherwise if you went over them when the tide was in, you may find yourself stranded on the leases if the tide had turned and had gone out whilst you were in the bay or inlet.

On another occasion, when I was writing for the old "Hills TV Magazine" I would often mention my late mother-in-law in my columns. I would refer to her as the "Dragon Lady" and I must admit she did enjoy the notoriety at the time. On this particular occasion we had decided to join a cruise from Wisemans Ferry operated by some friends who lived at Lower Portland. Unbeknown to us or to our friends, the mention of the cruise in a previous column had generated a great deal of interest amongst the readership and when we arrived at the public wharf at Wisemans Ferry there was quite a queue that had formed. The owners were really chuffed as this was the first time that their vessel had been filled to capacity. My late mother-in-law took great pleasure in telling fellow passengers that she was the "Dragon Lady" who had featured in the "Hills TV Magazine".

If you haven't explored the Hawkesbury or Berowra Waters then I would urge you to do so by boat. There is some amazing scenery along the waterways that can only be viewed from a boat. A cruise on the historic Macquarie Princess with commentary is one way to enjoy the Hawkesbury River and Berowra Creek, or a relaxing houseboat for a weekend away or a week of quiet isolation is another way of enjoying the river. You can stop and explore places such as Spencer, Wisemans Ferry, Lower Portland and other such villages along the Hawkesbury & Colo Rivers or Berowra Creek.

NOW WHAT ABOUT YOUR MEMORIES OR YOUR STORY

If you have some great memories, or perhaps you belong to a local community organisation and would like to share your organisation's history or story with us then feel free to share your memories or experiences by writing to PO Box 1278, Baulkham Hills, NSW 1755 or email to metropoll@optusnet.com.au. You can also share memories on any of my facebook memories groups including Hills District Memories which you will find here <https://www.facebook.com/groups/Hills.memories/>

You can write about childhood memories of where you may have grown up. Tell us about your school days. Where you worked, played or went on holidays. Your first car or that first date or maybe the history of your group or organisation in the district. This page is about memories so tell us yours.

The Grounded Project - Fighting Local Hunger

Grounded is a community initiative aimed at collecting excess fresh vegetables from local Gardeners to be used to help feed the homeless.

Our belief is that most home veggi growers just love growing and often have an over supply of crops or eggs in excess of the needs of their family. We are not very good at staggering our crops so it is usually all or nothing. We are asking backyard growers to donate their excess crops to be used to provide healthy meals to the homeless. We are collecting our first harvest between Friday 20th Nov and Sun 22nd Nov and will organise pick ups from homes in the Hills across these days.

Our first harvest will be donated to Carevan Blacktown, who provide hot meals to the homeless in Lalor Park. We will then be organising harvests throughout Dec to Feb.

Please see our Facebook page <https://www.facebook.com/groundedproject>.

For more details contact 0431 807 135.

Art Demo

On Monday 2 November at 7.30pm, Baulkham Hills Art Society will be holding their monthly demonstration at the Crestwood Community Centre, corner of Chapel Lane and Crestwood Drive.

Chris Vidal a Parramatta based artist will provide a colourful and inspirational demonstration of a 'sunset' painting using acrylics. He will explain the basics of the colour wheel, composition and the colour palette. Chris is an artist/scientist who studied arts in Malta though his current techniques in oils and acrylics are mostly self taught. His landscape paintings are usually inspirations of places that he has visited. Last year his work was featured in "Artist Palette" magazine.

Chris's work can be found in private and corporate collections and currently can be seen at Muse Gallery in Castle Hill.

We welcome any artistic minded beginners and visitors to watch this demonstration.

For more details contact 9674 1240.

Cards workshop

Let your creative side shine at Hawkesbury Central Library's 'Cards for all occasions' workshop. Family and friends will absolutely love your hand-made cards.

It will be held on Thursday, 12 Nov from 1:30-3pm. All materials will be supplied on the day. Bookings are essential with a $10 fee payable on the day.

For more details contact (02) 4560 4460.

Tech Help

Do you have a tech enquiry or want a hand with a specific task? Hawkesbury Central Library staff will help you thanks to a new regular service called Tech Help for those who need extra assistance with certain technical issues.

The new service will commence every Wednesday from 11 November between 10am to 11am at Hawkesbury Central Library, Windsor.

For more details contact (02) 4560 4465.

Heart Health Check Program

HCF is helping its Castle Hill members with a pioneering heart health check program. The Victor Chang Health Check Booth will be visiting HCF Castle Hill - Shop 459, Castle Towers, Castle Hill, from Monday 2 November - Wednesday 4 November 2015, between 9:00am and 4:45pm.

Heart Foundation research shows cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of death in Australia, killing one person every 11 minutes. That's why it's crucial to take the time to look after your heart.

To help, the Castle Hill HCF branch will be offering a 10 minute heart health check. This service is free to HCF members who have Extras cover.

Blood pressure, cholesterol and blood sugar levels will all be checked, and a confidential assessment will be provided.

The tests will be carried out by a registered nurse from the Victor Chang Cardiac Research Institute, with results provided immediately.

It's first in first served, so make sure you pop by the Castle Hill branch early to avoid missing out.

Please come in and speak to Terri Zahra at HCF Castle Hill - Shop 459, Castle Towers, Castle Hill. Visit <http://www.hcf.com.au/about-us>.

Australia's favourite vet, Dr Chris Brown, picks six winning pet photos

If you have a pet (or even if not!), you'll agree that they ultimately become an extension of our family. In September, the monthly Canon Light Awards (CLA) shone a light on pets' unique personalities as part of the photography brief set by Canon's latest Brand Ambassador, Dr Chris Brown.

Today, Canon Australia and Australia's favourite vet are delighted to announce two winners and four runners up for the September brief on Pet Personalities - where entrants were challenged to use their knowledge about their pets and condense their most special characteristics into a single frame.

Celebrating their wins are Leeroy Todd from The Dawn (QLD) who won the Open Category prize with his image, Sleepy Eyes and CATC Design School Sydney student Jamie Sackitey from Glenwood (NSW) who topped the Student Category for his image, High Five! More details on all the winners can be found below.

An exclusive, behind the scenes video of the judging process is also available this month, where Dr Chris assessed more than 1,200 entries, explaining in depth how he chose the winners and finalists.

Do feel free to get in touch for more information on CLA, to arrange a gallery of winning images or to interview the winners.

The Canon Light Awards October creative competition is currently open, with the brief 'Invisible Editing' set by Peter Eastway, internationally renowned Australian photographer and author of the Lonely Planet's guide to landscape photography. Entries can be submitted via the Canon website here until 31 Oct.
