The Forgotten Flotilla - Part 2

The Development & Deployment of the Forgotten Flotilla

Although not specifically mentioned anywhere, it is likely much of Churchill's motivation for the development of the Tank Landing Craft stemmed from the Dunkirk evacuation of late May and early June 1940. In that operation, upwards of 300,000 troops were taken safely from the French coast. However, as there were no suitable vessels to uplift materiel directly from the beaches, and the docks were too badly damaged, equipment for almost ten divisions was abandoned and left behind. This included ammunition, light and heavy guns, trucks, motorcycles, tanks as well as other supplies. Churchill was not about to let this happen again.

Before the middle of July, Churchill had his ideas for the landing craft drawn up by a naval architect, Roland Baker. With finance quickly approved, the first order for twenty Tank Landing Craft Mk1 was submitted to a selection of shipyards to begin construction immediately. Meanwhile, the skippers and the crew to man the prototypes were secretly chosen and underwent commando training in Scotland in preparation.

The flotilla went down to Egypt, leaving England late December 1940, on cargo ships accompanying troop transports in convoy WS 5A. The designation WS apparently stood for 'Winston's Specials'. Strangely, the manifests for the convoy detail everything and everybody except the new landing craft and their crews!

"How was it travelling in the convoy?" Michael asked of John Digby Sutton during one of their many meetings. "Didn't want to get off," laughed John. "Could have cruised the bloody world for a few years," he added. No wonder. John, along with the other skippers and their crews, travelled to the Middle East, not with the rank and file troops but aboard a luxury Dutch Cruise liner, Costa Rica. Indeed, it seemed Churchill had some special agenda for this flotilla.

The convoy was unable to take the faster route through Gibraltar due to U-boat activity in the area. Instead, it went around the Horn of Africa and up to the Suez Canal. The landing craft were unloaded. It took just over a month to reassemble and fit out the first five. These five craft were then immediately sent on a mission to supply the besieged town of Tobruk.

John's war started just thirty minutes out of Alexandria harbour on this his first mission. A wave of dive-bombers swept in. They flayed the water around his craft with machinegun fire and let loose sticks of high explosive. The flat-bottomed vessel lifted out of the water crashing back down with so much power that everything of glass onboard smashed. This included the ship's two compasses.

"No compasses?" Michael queried. "How did you navigate?" Without missing a beat John replied "Well, I had a schoolboy knowledge of astronomy and knew where the north star was, so I tied a broom handle to the railing around the command centre. And I kept a crewman seated up there to make sure it stayed in line." Keep in mind John the skipper was only twenty-one at this stage. To the readers here I would ask, "Would a twenty-one year old today even know what a broom is?"

More on John and his craft will follow soon.

Hawkesbury to Host First World 24-Hour Obstacle Course Racing Championship

In a global-first, the world championship for 24-hour obstacle course racing will be held in the Hawkesbury next year.

The event, secured by the NSW Government's tourism and major events agency, Destination NSW, will be run by Australian-owned company True Grit and held in Lower Portland in June 2018.

To host the inaugural World 24 hour Obstacle Course Racing Championship is a big win for the area and will provide a significant economic boost to our region. The World Championship will be the second obstacle course race for the region, following the True Grit military inspired obstacle challenge which will take place in May. True Grit and the Obstacle Course Race are expected to attract more than 2000 visitors to the Hawkesbury next year, injecting more than $1.8 million into the local visitor economy.

NSW Minister for Tourism and Major Events Adam Marshall said the inaugural 24 hour race was an exciting addition to the State's sporting calendar.

The World 24 hour Obstacle Course Racing Championship will see competitors complete 30 obstacles in a 10km course loop over 24 gruelling hours. The True Grit race is the ultimate test of strength and endurance. Australia has embraced the 24 hour Enduro as the toughest 24 hour foot race in the country. It's great to see this format replicated as a World Championship here in Sydney.

The World 24 hour Obstacle Course Racing Championship will be held from 9-10 June, 2018 with True Grit to take place from 26-27 May, 2018.

Ebenezer Art Show

by Ted Brill

The first Ebenezer Art Show was held in 1978. Proposed jointly by parent Carolyn Auld and Ebenezer teacher Lyndall Harrison, the idea received strong support from the Ebenezer P&C Association, the executive of the association at the time being Yvette Kemp (President), Lynn Popplewell (Secretary) and Dot Schmidt (Treasurer).

Original art work not being in plentiful supply in the Hawkesbury in 1978 and Ebenezer being considered too far out of the city suburbs for artists to deliver their work, it was arranged for metropolitan artists and crafts persons to drop off their paintings or craft at a home in Pennant Hills. From there it was transported by parents or school staff to Ebenezer.

Display space at the first art show was limited to a six-module demountable library for art and the original brick classroom for craft. It attracted only 130 paintings (35 by the same artist!) but a large exhibition of a variety of craft. The function was well patronized – on opening night there were 100 people crammed into the library. It was opened by artist Warwick Fuller. Paintings to the value of $2170 and craft valued at $903 were sold, the P&C realising an overall profit of $730.

From this small beginning the art show was held each year and grew in size and popularity. Brick classrooms built in 1982 provided an attractive area for display of paintings and pottery and the addition of a double classroom in 1994 was used for outstanding displays of craft.

With refinements to procedures and oversight for many years by Sue & Ted Brill, plus continued support by the P&C Association and school staff, the show became so popular with district and metropolitan artists that drop off points in Pennant Hills were no longer required. If artists wanted to display their work they had to deliver it themselves – and they did – to the extent that entries per artist had to be limited.

In later years the addition of a school hall provided a new venue for this exhibition and the art show continued.

The staging of an art show is a huge undertaking, especially for a small school such as Ebenezer. Parents and school staff over the last 40 years are to be thanked and congratulated for what they have achieved.

While the primary aim of Ebenezer Art Shows was fund raising for the school this annual event has made a large contribution to the promotion of art and artists and it has provided an opportunity for students of the school to view and appreciate original art work. Ebenezer Art Shows have also been events that have been enjoyed and well-supported by the local Ebenezer community; they have generally enhanced the fine reputation of Ebenezer Public School in the Hawkesbury district.

Free Author Talk - Minnie Biggs

Kurrajong resident Minnie Biggs will talk about her latest novel, Shards of Ice, at Hawkesbury Central Library on Friday 25 August, 6pm to 7:30pm.

The book entwines her travels to Antarctica and the Red Desert as well as experiences of illness, dying and bereavement. Shards of Ice is Minnie's first memoir and was written after she sailed to Antarctica to get away from the painful memories of losing her husband of 47 years.

Minnie wrote her first book when she was thirteen and has been writing ever since. She has also written about food for the prize-winning Simple Cooking, essays on spirituality, music reviews and poems.

This free event will be held at Hawkesbury Central Library, 300 George Street, Windsor with refreshments provided. Bookings are essential via www.hawkesburylibrary.eventbrite.com or call the Library on (02) 4560 4460.

Getting Published!

In partnership with St Albans Writers' Festival, Hawkesbury Library Service will provide a Getting Published workshop for all aspiring authors on Saturday, 26 August, from 10am to midday.

Published writer and editor Nigel Bartlett will provide aspiring authors with practical advice on getting published; how the publishing industry works, agents, how to make submissions and the value of writers groups and networking. His debut novel, King of the Road, was published by Penguin Random House in 2015 and he is currently working on his next novel.

The workshop is $30, payable at time of booking. Bookings are essential via www.hawkesburylibrary.eventbrite.com or phone (02) 4560 4460. This workshop will be held in the Tebbutt Room, Deerubbin Centre, 300 George Street Windsor.

The annual St Albans Writers' Festival will be held from Friday, 8 September to Sunday, 10 September. For full program details about the festival and to book your festival tickets, go to www.stalbanswritersfestival.com.au

Celebrate Family History

Be part of National Family History Month during August. It is a great opportunity to learn about the value of researching family history and understanding the social context in which our ancestors lived.

Local author with book. Source: Minnie Biggs

National Family History Month has been held in Australia every August over the past few years to celebrate family history. Family history and genealogy is one of the most popular hobbies around the world, with over 250,000 Australians being members of family history related organisations. More Australians than ever are actively researching and recording their family history.

As part of National Family History Month, Hawkesbury Library Service will hold free events at Hawkesbury Central Library, 300 George Street, Windsor.

There will also be hundreds of events held throughout

Australia so join in the fun and excitement, for more information see <http://familyhistorymonth.org.au>

Get ready For Eight Rate Hikes

By Sandra Dignam

Home loan lender ME Bank is “urging” borrowers to brace themselves for eight rate hikes in the near future, following the release of minutes from this month’s RBA meeting.

In the minutes of the Reserve Bank of Australia’s last meeting on July 4th, the RBA’s estimation of the ‘neutral real interest rate’ is 3.5 per cent.

Therefore, the rate at which output growth is at potential and inflation is stable is 2% higher than the current level of 1.50 per cent.

Monetary policy has been expansionary for the previous five years or so, and the cash rate has been at its record low level of 1.50% for almost a year.

ME Bank has warned that this could soon lead to the Reserve Bank hiking the cash rate.

It argued that an increase to 3.5 per cent would boost average mortgage rate from 5.3 per cent to more than 7 per cent, adding $520 per month to a loan average of $400,000.

When banks assess a loan application they use an assessment rate of 7.25% - 7.5% so that there is the ability to pay the loan repayments when rates rise so there is a buffer but the default rate has been very high and has only recently stabilised.

Mortgage rates could rise much further and fast. Banks have already started increasing rates because of pressure from regulators especially for investor loans and Interest Only loans. APRA has required increased capital holdings from all deposit-taking institutions to establish a banking system that can readily withstand periods of adversity.

Obviously if the banks are required to hold more money, it increases their cost of funds and so they could compensate by increasing rates, fees and charges to all borrowers including businesses.

I would say if you haven’t refinanced recently then now would be a good time to lock in a fixed rate for the next 2-3 years. Who know how high it will go or how fast.

Give Every Loan a call on 96532034 to discuss what you can do with your rates, or for any other finance need.

Mr Sharpe’s Track in Wisemans Ferry

The Dharug and Lower Hawkesbury Historical Society would like to extend the invitation to the general public to join us in our walk along Mr Sharpe’s Track.

The Reverend Thomas Sharpe an Anglican Minister was appointed minister in the late 1830’s for the Lower Hawkesbury and lived in a small cottage on the banks of the Hawkesbury.

Most of Sharpe’s work was among the people of the river via a small boat and the boating skills were provided by his assigned convict servants. Sharpe would visit several churches along the Lower Hawkesbury River, Macdonald River and Mangrove Creek.

Back in the day to get to Sharpe’s modest house, visitors had to take a convict built side-road marked “Pathway to Mr Sharpe’s” leaving the Great North Road near what is now Tobruk Sheep Station.

Date: Saturday, 26th August 2017

Time: 9.30am

Location: To meet in the park at Wisemans Ferry.

We will carpool, leaving some cars in River Road and the other cars proceeding to Tobruk Sheep Station where we have permission to park. We will have morning tea here prior to the walk.

The walk whilst not hard is over a dirt track and through parts of a couple of private properties and should only take about 2 hours. We have obtained permission to walk through these private properties.

Bookings are essential: enquiries@dlhhs.org.au or 0405 321 478 (leave a message) by Wednesday, 23rd August.

Lunch: We suggest lunch at Wisemans Ferry Hotel as a fitting way to finish the walk.

Wear suitable walking attire. Please provide contact phone numbers in case of inclement weather.

For further information please contact us on enquiries@dlhhs.org.au or 0405 321 478. All welcome.

Housing Affordability in the 50's & 60's

Housing affordability has been a problem for families and politicians for many decades. In past articles I have written about migrating to Australia and living in Migrant camps. Since European colonisation of Australia there has always been a problem in securing a home. Whether it has been securing land or building materials settlers have had problems.

After the end of WW2 the main problems were the return of servicemen and women from overseas marrying and building families and the influx of migrants and refugees from war damaged Europe.

To cope with these problems the various State and Federal Governments instituted policies that saw the creation of large housing estates and assistance to couples wanting to purchase homes. The State Governments through their Housing Commissions subdivided large tracts of land and created low cost housing estates where they then rented the homes to tenants. The estates may have started off as small subdivisions and as time went on larger tracts were developed such as Dundas Valley, Green Valley and Mt. Druitt.

The Commonwealth Government through the "War Service Homes" Branch of the then Repatriation Department also built housing estates at Cabramatta, Cromer (Dee Why) and elsewhere. The difference between the State and Federal governments was that the War Service Homes were built to be sold to returned servicemen who were provided with low cost loans by the Department to assist in the purchase. War Service Home loans were also provided to assist in the purchase of existing homes (not on War Service housing estates) and also to build extensions or renovations on existing homes. An added benefit was that through War Service Homes your home was also insured with low cost insurance cover. Later the Government also created a Housing Loan Insurance Corporation which became part of the Department of Housing. This and the War Service Homes loan portfolio were later sold to a bank in the 1970s.

During the 1963 Federal election campaign the then Prime Minister, Robert Gordon Menzies, announced that the Federal Government, if re-elected, would establish a Commonwealth Department of Housing, which would not only administer the War Service Homes scheme but would also administer the newly proposed "Home Savings Grant" scheme. This scheme was to encourage young couples under the age of 35 years to save monies in an approved savings account with a bank or building society towards the purchase of a home.

This announcement saw me secure a position in the Public Service in the newly created Department of Housing in 1964. I was placed in the War Service Homes section in the Grace Building at 77 York St Sydney, until the Home Savings Grant section was established across the road in "King York House".

The Home Savings Grant worked like this. The government would provide a grant of $1 for every $3 saved up to a maximum grant of $500. The grant would be payable on your first home only. You would have needed to be married and you would have had to have savings over at least three years prior to the date of the contract of sale of your first home. The grant would only be given once to a couple to assist in the purchase of a home. Back in 1964 the average price of home in Sydney would have been around $15000. The home must have been valued at no more than $15000. The department would send out an assessor to value the home if, for instance, you were purchasing from a relative such as your parents to ensure that the price you were paying for the home was fair and reasonable.

Get Ready for this Year's Chemical CleanOut

Get ready for the 2017 Household Chemical CleanOut! This year's CleanOut will be held on Sunday, 27 August 2017 at Hawkesbury Showground, Racecourse Road, Clarendon between 9am and 3:30pm.

The Household Chemical CleanOut is a FREE service for the safe disposal of a range of common household chemicals, many of which could cause harm to human health and the environment if disposed of in regular garbage bins or tipped into drains.

Residents can dispose of paint and paint related products, herbicides, pesticides, poisons, gas bottles, fire extinguishers, pool chemicals, hobby chemicals, acids and alkalis, solvents, household cleaners, motor oils, fuels, fluids, batteries, and fluorescent globes and tubes.

Individual container sizes up to 20L or 20kg are accepted.

This event is run by the NSW Environment Protection Authority in conjunction with Hawkesbury City Council Chemical CleanOut

If you miss the Hawkesbury CleanOut event, you can attend any Household Chemical CleanOut or Community Recycling Centre located around Sydney to dispose of your chemicals. The dates and locations of other events can be found on the NSW Environment Protection Authority's CleanOut website, www.cleanout.com.au.ChemicalCleanOut

The Castle on the Hill

Hermitage Cottage in 2008

Governor King presented to Verincourt De Clambe a grant of land on the high point overlooking present day shopping centre and suburb of Castle Hill in 1801. At the time rumour had it that De Clambe planned to build a castle befitting his social status. He has been recorded as having various titles: Baron, Chevalier, Colonel or Lieutenant. It is noteworthy that De Clambe had received his selection on the best land and on the threshold of the 34,000 acre government common which stretched northwards to the Hawkesbury River. The reality of constructing a castle, when there were few resources, demanded that a simple timber slab hut was the only option.

The residence was named The Hermitage and has survived 200 years through the fortunate use of turpentine timber which is resistant to termites and which was cut on the estate. A secondary dwelling was built around the original which further protected this historic structure. It is considered by historians a possibility that The Hermitage is the oldest surviving slab building in Sydney. It is located at 340 Old Northern Road (Rogans Hill) occupied by Hills Family Funerals Limited.

The Colonial Experiment That Really Worked!

Governor Arthur Phillip had farming experience from the days when he moved to the New Forest in the south of England with his bride in 1763. The sandy soil of Botany Bay was of little agricultural value and the First Fleet moved to Port Jackson where a fresh water stream offered a chance for success. Seeds and cuttings planted on the shore of Farm Cove did not thrive and Phillip explored westwards until he discovered the fertile lands he named Rose Hill.

Very few members of the First Fleet were skilled in farming, but convict James Ruse said he had worked as a husbandman in Cornwall and would be able to grow enough food to support himself. Land grant number one issued by Arthur Phillip in 1790 gave James Ruse a thirty acre parcel on the southern side of the Parramatta River. Ruse was provided with a hut, given grain for the first years of sowing and implements to till the soil, plus two sow pigs and six hens. Governor Phillip named the property Experiment Farm.

Elizabeth Perry, transported for seven years for theft, had arrived on the Lady Juliana in June 1790 and married Ruse in September of that year. She was the first woman convict in New South Wales to be emancipated [to be set free]. The farm succeeded and in 1791 Ruse reported he was able to maintain himself although his wife still had to draw rations from government stores since she was expecting their first child.

In 1793 Ruse sold his farm to Surgeon John Harris who increased his land holdings to 150 acres carrying cattle, horses and sheep as well as crops. This land is now known as the suburb of Harris Park.

State Member for Hawkesbury Hon Dominic Perrottet MP

In June I presented my first state budget as NSW Treasurer. It is a budget that builds for the next generation, provides for the present and positions us for the future.

As a Government we have worked extremely hard over the past six years to kick-start our state and are now able to reap the rewards from our reforms and plough them back into local communities. This budget sows the seeds of success so our children will one day reap the rewards of a better NSW.

With a massive injection of spending, NSW is now firmly in the driver's seat as the nation's economic powerhouse. With no net debt or deficit and a surplus of $4.5 billion, the Government can continue its record transport infrastructure spend whilst investing record amounts in the social infrastructure of schools and hospitals to improve the lives of people in our state.

Every parent wants the best for their children. That's why we are investing a record $4.2 billion in education infrastructure over the next four years to build new 90 new schools, an additional 15,000 classrooms, and 32,000 student places. Hawkesbury schools will receive $6.2 million to address back-log maintenance issues as well as providing new and refurbished classrooms, learning areas and playgrounds.

This is also a government that stands for world-class healthcare for the people of NSW. In 2015, we committed to bringing on an extra 3,500 nurses, doctors and medical professionals across NSW. With this budget, we hit that target one year early and add another 1,000 staff on top. Our record $21.7 billion health spend is funding the biggest program of hospital building this state has even seen, and we are also investing $100 million for palliative care over the next four years.

Local sporting clubs are the soul of our communities, which is why we announced the Active Kids Rebate. We want to help parents, but more importantly, we want to help kids. To do this we are using our strong financial position to invest where it counts. We are giving parents a helping hand of $100 per child to help cover registration and membership fees for organisations registered with the Office of Sport.

We are the only state with strong surpluses, no debt, low unemployment and record investments in services and infrastructure. This is a great budget result for the Hawkesbury and I will continue to advocate for the needs of the electorate in my role as your state representative and NSW Treasurer.

We have come a long way in just six years, but the best is yet to come.

Federal Member for Macquarie - Susan Templeman MP

Leading the Way in Climate Change

Macquarie has long been an electorate passionate about renewables, sustainability and conservation. For that reason, I invited Mark Butler, Shadow Minister for Energy and Climate Change, to come and have a look.

It is especially important that the brilliant minds we have within our community are in direct contact with our nation's climate change policy makers.

The insights provided by Jon Dee, author, TV presenter and Planet Ark co-founder, the Blue Mountains Conservation Society, Blue Mountains World Heritage Institute and Blue Mountains Renewable Energy Co-Op were invaluable. From our discussions, it is obvious that we must continue to push for a low emissions economy as well as protect the World Heritage environment we are so lucky to inherit.

And the Hawkesbury Institute for the Environment EucFACE Experiment showed us their world class facility. Giant cranes occupy the sky at Hobartville, and beneath them high concentrations of CO2 are pumped onto small patches of native vegetation. Multiple points of data are measured, and made available to researchers all over the world, who are unearthing the effects of carbon dioxide on our native forests.

These are clearly not the only experts in their field who call the Blue Mountains and Hawkesbury home. There are many people - some paid, some volunteer - whose voices allow us to create responsive and well informed policy on climate change. It is for this reason that Labor is committed to ensuring 50 per cent of the nation's electricity is sourced from renewable energy by 2030; committed to the 2 degree limit agreed to in the Paris Accords; and committed to supporting the community in the inevitable move from non-renewable forms of energy, with a just and fair transition.

I am proud to represent an area so determined to protect our environment. Thank you to all who gave up time to meet with us.

What is Dyslexia?

Dyslexia is a disorder involving difficulty in learning to read words, letters and other symbols. Dyslexia literally means 'trouble with words'. It is the term used to describe difficulties with spelling, writing and reading. The challenges can come in many different forms and are not limited to reversals of letters and words, a common misconception.

Dyslexia affects 1 in 10 individuals, many of whom remain undiagnosed and receive little or no intervention services. For some individuals who have never been diagnosed, dyslexia is a hidden disability which may result in underemployment, difficulty navigating academic environments, difficulty on the job, and reduced self-confidence. Even those who have been diagnosed are likely to struggle with reading or writing in some aspects of their lives. Dyslexia is a specific reading disorder and does not reflect low intelligence. There are many bright and creative individuals with dyslexia who never learn to read, write, and/or spell at a level consistent with their intellectual ability.

What are the Characteristics of Dyslexia?

Dyslexia is characterised by oral distortions or omissions. Both oral and silent reading show notable slowness and errors in comprehension. Some of the key characteristics of Dyslexia are listed below:

- Dyslexia is a learning disorder and it is associated with difficulties acquiring reading skills. The main characteristics of Dyslexia are the inability to distinguish between common letters and the inability to associate common phonemes with letter symbols.
- Children with Dyslexia often have difficulty visually distinguishing between confusing or similar letters, such as b and d, or p and q. This could lead to a difficulty correctly reading words, such as reading gall instead of ball.
- Another common characteristic of Dyslexia is the inability to track word lines. Children may read the same line twice; they may jump over and skip words, or skip lines when reading. In more serious cases children may report that the lines start to "move on the page" or get "washed out" and "blend into each other".
- Associated symptoms of Dyslexia may include difficulties with writing, low self-esteem, behavioural difficulties (particularly acting out during class), attentional problems, anger and frequent headaches after the school day.

What Causes Dyslexia?

Dyslexia is not a visual disorder, it is a reading disability caused by a defect in the brain's processing of graphic symbols. It is a neurological disorder. The deficit is in a small part of the brain that is involved in reading and transmitting written information between the sensory system and the brain. New research from the UK finds that about half of genes that influence a child's reading ability can also affect their math capability.

How is Dyslexia diagnosed and treated?

You may have heard about tinted lenses helping dyslexics. That is an example of a specific problem (a sensitivity to the contrast of black text on a bright white background) that can cause reading difficulty. The tinted glasses or overlays do help those children, but it is something seen with only about 5% of dyslexics.

A lot of very bright visual learners trying to store whole words in memory, rather than decoding. That leads to lots of guessing or switching of the short words. Around 50% of dyslexics fall into this group. Dyslexia is a complex disorder and testing requires a detailed approach. A thorough assessment of Dyslexia involves:

1. Evaluation of the child's developmental history and background.
2. Detailed evaluation of reading skills.
3. Assessment of current intellectual level.
4. In most cases it is also useful to evaluate the child's cognitive processes associated with Dyslexia.
5. To screen out the possible presence of a sensory deficit, it is necessary to evaluate the child's visual abilities.

Dyslexia Australia supports a multi-sensory based approach to dyslexia in a caring, patient, flexible and supportive environment. Dyslexia Australia offers a Davis Dyslexia Correction® Program, which is suitable for students and adults aged 8-80 who are experiencing challenges in reading, writing and comprehension.

New Recycle Bins Are Being Rolled Out

Hills Shire residents will soon have brand new yellow-lid recycling bins as part of The Hills Shire Council's new waste and recycling collection contract with Cleanaway. Many of the Shire's recycling bins are reaching the end of their usefulness, and replacement of all yellow-lid bins at one time is the most cost-effective and sustainable way to ensure all Council's bins remain in a serviceable condition. All recycle bins will be replaced regardless of their current age or condition. Red-lid and green-lid bins will not be affected by the new contract.

The replacement process is expected to take up to eight weeks to complete and will begin in August. New yellow-lid recycling bins will be delivered to homes before old yellow-lid recycling bins are removed.

All old recycle bins must be presented for collection as, after the roll out is complete, only new bins, which are identified by bearing Council's new logo will be emptied. All yellow-lid recycling bins that are collected will be recycled.

For further information, visit www.thehills.nsw.gov.au or call the Waste Hotline on 1800 623 895.

WHY ADVERTISE IN THE HILLS TO HAWKESBURY LIVING?

- Over 10,000 magazines are picked up by local consumers by choice from stands in local shopping centres, clubs and petrol stations.
- The TV guide is eagerly sought after and in high demand with our pick up rate constantly exceeding 99%.
- A full page ad costs less than printing 10,000 flyers and distribution is free. Rather than being seen as junk mail, it is picked up to be viewed daily.
- With the TV Guide, your ad will be seen again and again over the 16 day period over which the magazine is designed to be kept.
- Value for money, our display advertisements cost less than half of the average cost of other local publications which are viewed once only.
- Local readers support the local advertisers and appreciate and support a local free TV guide.

ART DEMO

On Monday 7 August at 7.30pm, Baulkham Hills Art Society will be holding their monthly demonstration at the Crestwood Community Centre (UBD 170 F3), cnr. Crestwood and Mackillop Drive.

Hawkesbury artist Joe Cartwright will create a landscape painting of a sunset over the hills scene. He will show the importance of using the right materials, colour mixing, design, drawing and perspective.

We welcome all members and any visitors interested in watching the demonstration to come along and join us.

Membership details from Lorraine on 9674 1240

Open Day fun for pets, plants and people

Around 500 people came along to the Hawkesbury Community Nursery and Hawkesbury Companion Animal Shelter Open Day at Mulgrave on Saturday, 29 July, which was held to launch Local Government Week in the Hawkesbury.

Approximately 800 plants were given away and three animals had names placed on them for adoption while residents with new pets took advantage of the free microchipping, saving $53 per pet. Some dogs were also lucky enough to enjoy the mobile dog wash on the day.

Crowds also gathered for the Australian Working Dog Rescue demonstrations, and a BBQ that even included sausages for dogs.

Many people with ex-shelter pets also came along to share stories of their new lives while others took the opportunity to visit the Hawkesbury Community Nursery and receive their free plants.

During Local Government Week, Council is asking community members to make some important decisions about funding options to help to meet community expectations for asset service levels in the future.

The full program is available at www.hawkesbury.nsw.gov.au
