Windsor High car show a roaring success

By TONY BOSWORTH – EDITOR, HAWKESBURY POST

It's one of the biggest local car shows in our region and with over 1000 visitors coming through the gates the Windsor High School Car Show has once again raised much-needed funds for the school.

"We were so lucky with the weather and all our marketing and hard work paid off with over 1000 visitors," said Helen Palmer who is Treasurer of Windsor's High's P&C.

"We managed to fit in 170 cars plus tractors, WWI & WWII vehicles, family rides, market stalls and a BBQ. A further 40-plus display cars filled the street out the front of the school. Everyone had a great time. The cars were outstanding and it was an attractive show as it had diversity, which really interested a lot of our visitors," Ms Palmer told the Post.

Proceeds from the school's first Car Show in 2019 were used to buy a chilled and filtered water station to the school, which has proved to be a very popular purchase among both school students and staff.

Proceeds from this year's show are earmarked for the purchase of outdoor gym equipment, to be placed near the basketball court to provide additional activities in that area.

"There were lots of trophies and happy car owners," Ms Palmer said. "The displays of cars and machinery created many talking points. Talking points create community, and that is what the Hawkesbury is good at, being a connected community."

Planning is already underway for 2023, and organisers are hoping for dry weather which would allow the event to be held on the school playing fields, giving space for even more cars.

Hannah Hussein survived a high speed crash.

A few months ago, Hannah, her sister Charlotte, Erin Prince, and Charlotte O' Shaghanessy won the 2022 NSW Under 15 Junior Team Trial cycling gold medal under the Neo Cycling Club banner.

Her Mum said the paramedics were amazing. "The paramedics were the calm voice of reason during a very scary time," Jessica said. "They handled it so well and so professionally with such care, that it actually gave me great peace of mind, and calmed me right down. I felt like I could really trust them with my daughter's life."

Emily, an Intensive care paramedic, said: "Hannah was in a lot of pain, so I provided her with some pain relief and I just kept on talking to her for the whole journey (to the hospital).

"It can be quite overwhelming (attending traumatic injury jobs) especially with the young age that Hannah was, you think about what happens from here and what her life's going to be like. It's extremely rare and we're very fortunate to be able to meet Hannah and see how well she's doing."

Harry, who has been on the job for a year, said: "It's very rare that we get to see the end result of our patient's treatment. I haven't done a lot of trauma jobs, so one of the biggest parts was knowing I was backed up by our ICP, Emily.

"Just to know the impact we had was such a positive one, it's very humbling."

Thanks paramedics who treated her

Young Bella Vista cycling ace Hannah Hussein survived a very serious crash while competing in the NSW Junior Metro, Country and Open Road Championships in August. She suffered a grade three concussion, fractured eye socket, perforated bowel and torn ligaments in a shoulder.

The 12-year-old Norwest Christian College student was racing at 45km/hour at the Sutherland track when she clipped the back wheel of a rival and was thrown off her bike. The impact was so hard that she was unconscious for around seven minutes. Hannah's older sister Charlotte quickly rang triple zero, while Mum Jessica rushed to her side, fearing the worst as she heard gurgling sounds from her injured daughter. Hannah's face was so swollen she couldn't even open her mouth.

Hannah does not remember anything and only woke up in hospital a few days later. After seven days in hospital and almost 10 weeks in recovery and rehabilitation, brave Hannah has almost made a fully recovery. Hannah is even thinking of returning to competitive cycling, but will take it easy because she still feels tender and tired.

Last week, she was able to thank the paramedics who were the first to treat her. She had an emotional reunion with NSW Ambulance paramedics Emil Nawiesniak, and Harry Ryan. "I just want to say thank you guys for helping," Hannah told them.

TEENAGERS CHARGED

Two youths appeared in children's court on Wednesday, 19th October following a police pursuit.

Police received a report just after 8am on Tuesday 18th October that a white BMW had been stolen from a home in Rouse Hill overnight.

Police located the vehicle in Schofields and attempted to stop it on Boundary Road Vineyard. When it failed to do so, a pursuit was initiated and terminated a short time later in Pitt Town due to safety concerns.

With assistance from PolAir, the vehicle was monitored travelling through the area before being abandoned at a carpark on Railway Terrace, Schofields about 9.20am.

A perimeter was established, and a search of the surrounding area commenced with the Dog Unit, Public Order and Riot Squad and local police. A short time later two males - aged 14 and 16 years – were arrested inside a nearby shopping centre. They were both taken to Riverstone Police Station.

The vehicle has been seized by police and is undergoing forensic examination.

The 16-year-old was charged with police pursuit - not stop-drive dangerously, drive conveyance taken without consent of owner, never licensed person drive vehicle on road, and dishonestly obtain property by deception.

The 14-year-old was charged with be carried in conveyance without consent of owner and dishonestly obtain property by deception.

Anyone with information about this incident is urged to contact Crime Stoppers. Information is treated in strict confidence.

CAN YOU HELP?

Officers from Blacktown Area Command have released images of a man who they believe can assist with their inquiries into an armed robbery at a service station on Prospect Road, Seven Hills, last month.

About 10pm on Sunday, 4 September 2022, an unknown man entered the service station and threatened the employee, before stealing cash, drinks, cigarettes before fleeing the scene. The employee was uninjured.

The man is described as being of Caucasian appearance, aged in his 40's, with a brown scruffy beard on his face and neck.

He is depicted wearing a fluoro orange hooded jumper with a navy blue front pocket, grey tracksuit pants and black sneakers. His left hand and fingers are heavily tattooed.

Anyone who may have information that can assist detectives is urged to contact Blacktown Police Station on (02) 9671 9199 or Crime Stoppers.

LUXURY CARS FOUND

Police are investigating the thefts of luxury cars from the Hills area.

At about 1.45am on Monday, 17th October police attempted to stop a white Jaguar and a grey BMW travelling westbound along Pennant Hills Road, Pennant Hills.

When the vehicles failed to stop, a pursuit was initiated.

The pursuit continued along Pennants Hills Road before it was terminated on the M2, Kings Langley, due to the manner of driving.

Subsequent inquiries revealed the Jaguar, and a Dodge Ram utility were stolen from a home in Dural earlier that evening.

The Jaguar was located abandoned on Sedgemen Crescent, Shalvey and the Dodge on Ulundri Drive, Castle Hill. Both vehicles have been seized for forensic examination.

The BMW, which was reported stolen from a house in West Pennant Hills overnight, has not yet been recovered.

Investigations are ongoing by detectives from The Hills Police Area Command, with assistance from North West Metropolitan Region resources.

Anyone who may have information, dashcam vision or CCTV is urged to contact Crime Stoppers.

MAKE THE RIGHT CALL

When seconds count, it's important to know the right number to call.

In Australia, 000 is the main emergency service number for urgent help from police, fire or ambulance services and should be used when someone is seriously injured or in need of urgent medical help, the caller's life or property is being threatened or they just witnessed a serious accident or crime.

The 131 444 Police Assistance number should be used when someone is a victim of a crime, and in circumstances that are not life-threatening or a time-critical emergency. The Police Assistance Line operates 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and allows someone to report a crime and with general police inquiries. When a police response is required, the Police Assistance Line will arrange for a patrol to attend.

When someone has seen, heard or knows something about a crime or suspicious activity that is no longer happening, they can contact Crime Stoppers.

HILLS SAYS No To Domestic Violence By BEV JORDAN

Every person killed in Australia as a result of domestic abuse will be remembered by name at a moving rose ceremony on Friday, November 25th as part of a Hills Says No to DV event.

This year's event, organised by members of the Hills Domestic Violence Prevention Network, will be held at Castle Hill RSL and the theme is Moving Forward.

So far this year nearly 40 people have been killed in domestic abuse incidents. The number was 37 on October 10th as recorded by the national Counting Dead Women website.

Aileen Mountfield from the Lisa Harnum Foundation which runs interim housing for women at risk, is chairing the organising committee which includes Carol Harding from The Sanctuary-The Hills Women's Shelter.

Aileen said: "I am really passionate about remembering these people not as a statistic but remembering them as individuals who have lost their lives."

"The rose ceremony is an expression of remembrance, love and respect for those who have died. I always hope when people attend an event like this that they realise that there is domestic violence in their community. It is no respecter of post codes."

"A few years ago the community was shocked when members of the Edwards family in West Pennant Hills died. The

She said it is important that people look out for each other, neighbours, family, friends and colleagues.

"Be aware of the signs: People who have become withdrawn, people who appear stressed, people who are taking time off, people who are receiving lots of calls during the day from their partner during work or text messages.

"These might be signs that something is going on. Be aware of those signs and ask," she said. "We have to stop the violence."

Convenor of the Hills Domestic Violence Prevention Network Uma Menon said: "The Hills Domestic Violence Prevention Network (HDVPN) has been working towards raising awareness and reducing the incidence of DV in the Hills for over 30 years."

Ben's Pet Project

by BEV JORDAN

Ben Dessen was six years old when he got his first pet, it was a children's python called Rosie and before he could get her he had to put a pet proposal to his parents, Kathryn and Michael, to convince them he would be a responsible carer.

"My parents knew I had a curiosity in animals, my mum was used to me bringing insects and spiders home in my lunchbox," says Ben.

More than 20 years later the Dural resident has included a pet proposal in his newly released book The Ultimate Pet Handbook which is aimed at young people (and the adults who support them) who have a fascination for animals and who want to have a pet.

There are more than 25 pet profiles in the book, from furry, cute and cuddly to the more unusual such as the giant burrowing cockroach and the axolotl ... "these are all pets I have cared for over the years," says Ben.

Each Pet Profile includes detailed information on how to look after the pet, plus tips and fun facts. There are chapters on: Planning for a pet, Choosing the right pet and Making a budget. The book directs children to their local shelter or reputable pet store to find their perfect pet.

Ben with Freddo, one of 8 tree frogs that he cares for.

"There's also a section that covers grief because losing a pet is sometimes the first time a child has to deal with grief," says Ben.

At the back of the book there is a template for a pet proposal to convince adults of the would-be carer's commitment to looking after a pet. His own pet proposals to his parents were pretty successful over the years. "At one point there were about 15 pythons in the house," he says.

At a certain point his parents decided there were too many pets in the house and so the reptiles were moved to a purpose-built shed in the grounds of their Dural home where Ben would hang out after school caring for them.

Ben graduated from Western Sydney University with a degree in Natural Science, majoring in Animal Science and Conservation Biology, he manages the Zambi Native Wildlife Sanctuary at Dural and is the Store Manager at Kellyville Pets.

He says The Ultimate Pet Handbook is something he wished he had as a child. "When I set out on this journey, I had a vision of writing the book that I wish I had as a young animal lover growing up. A book that would sit on my bedside table, that I could read every night before going to sleep.

"A book with pages that would become worn after being read for the tenth time. A book that would have hand-written notes scribbled throughout, about which pet I wanted to share my life with next and how I was going to give that animal the very best life."

He says he often meets passionate young people who want to share their life with pets but don't always know which pet is best for them, or where to start: "I have written The Ultimate Pet Handbook for them."

The 174-page book has been beautifully illustrated by Nikkita Archer who works alongside Ben at Kellyville Pets with a foreword by Dr Harry Cooper (one of Ben's greatest mentors and inspiration) and a message from Bob Irwin (father of Steve Irwin) to young readers.

"I hope that The Ultimate Pet Handbook will inspire a new generation of animal lovers to be responsible 'pet parents' and enjoy the privilege of sharing their lives with pets. Above all else, I hope the book becomes a catalyst that encourages young people to be compassionate and kind and maybe even pursue a career working with and protecting animals like I have," said Ben.

The Ultimate Pet Handbook is available in bookstores and online. Copies with a personalised message to the child, are available by ordering online at www.bendessen.com.au. The RRP for the book is $29.99.

TOP AWARD for Prof

By ANNETTE MADJARIAN

Local resident and Professor Susan Kurrle, MD PhD, has been officially awarded and acknowledged for her "invaluable contribution" to developing services for elderly residents.

Professor Kurrle was recently announced as the recipient of the Australian Healthcare and Hospitals Association (AHHA) 2022 Sidney Sax medal for outstanding contributions to the development and improvement of Australia's healthcare system.

Professor Kurrle is a practicing geriatrician for the Northern Sydney Local Health District (NSLHD), specialising in the areas of dementia, frailty, elder abuse, successful ageing, and intergenerational care.

Professor Kurrle also features in the ABC TV documentary series Old People's Home for 4 Year Olds and Old People's Home for Teenagers as the expert geriatrician.

The television series showcased the benefits that intergenerational care programs can have, and their ability to promote participation and social connectedness, increasing happiness, dignity, and self-esteem for all participants.

As a leader and expert driving research in dementia and aged care, Professor Kurrle has been co-designing services with general practice for several years.

She co-founded the Geriatric Rapid Acute Care of the Elderly (GRACE) program, a ground-breaking approach to helping treat older patients in the appropriate setting, be it in the home, or aged care settings, rather than in emergency departments.

The GRACE model has since been adopted by many other Local Health Districts.

SuperTee for Kids By BEV JORDAN

An army of volunteers gathered at Castle Hill RSL (Thursday 6th October) for a Community Packing Event for the SuperTee Project.

SuperTee founder Jason Sotiris said the small charity was "heavily dependent" on volunteers and he was delighted when so many dads from Hills District Dads turned up to enable their children to experience the benefits of volunteering.

"Without events like these we will not be able to help the number of children we can in different hospitals," said Jason. "It's always great to return to Castle Hill RSL who care deeply about their community and are always happy to support us." Jason came up with the idea for a specially designed super hero T-shirt for children undergoing hospital treatment when his eldest child spent nearly three years in hospital.

Angela was diagnosed with a rare type of cancer Langerhans Cell Histiocytosis just a few weeks after her first birthday. He and his wife Vanessa were told she had a 20 percent chance of survival.

The early months in hospital watching her undergo treatment made Jason determined to create a garment that could be changed easily whether the patient was awake or asleep to make life easier for nurses and parents and reduce stress for the young patients.

The Super Hero style SuperTee was launched in 2018 with press studs for easy opening and closing and a cape that can also be used as a bib. Each SuperTee is packed in a colourful tin with stickers, a comic and a bookmark. The tins are given free to children in hospital. The 500 packed at Castle Hill RSL will be donated to Hawkesbury Hospital's Paediatric ward and Westmead Children's Hospital before Christmas.

Jason said: "We help on average 10,000 children a year which is nowhere near enough. Roughly 3,000,000 children visit our hospitals nationwide and you can take a guess of how many are facing life-threatening conditions. My hope is that in the coming years we reach 30,000 and over. Whether it's volunteering or fundraising we need more help. Currently we need more people willing to help fundraise for Christmas. If you work for an organisation that is looking to help a hospital or an individual with an upcoming birthday, anniversary, or special occasion and have no need for gifts but wish to help others like we help please get in touch via our website."

As well as hosting the community packing day at Castle Hill RSL SuperTee also received a $10,000 donation from CHRG. The group has supported the charity with donations for over 2 years now.

Alive 90.5FM conducted a live radio broadcast from the Club during the packing event, interviewing guests and raising awareness about the SuperTee Project.

Cain Anderson graduates Police Academy

By TONY BOSWORTH – EDITOR, HAWKESBURY POST

The latest batch of new police officers graduated this month and amongst Class 355 was a probationary officer with strong links to the Hawkesbury – Cain Anderson whose father, popular police Detective Inspector Bryson Anderson, was tragically killed in the line of duty in December 2012.

Cain graduated at the NSW Police Academy just two months short of 10 years after the death of his father who was among several officers attending an incident at a property in Oakville back in 2012 when he was attacked and died of his wounds. The assailant was initially jailed for 35 years.

PC Anderson said this week he was proud of what he and his classmates had achieved at the NSW Police Academy, and he feels his dad was there in spirit at his graduation.

"I think he was looking down. The clouds parted and the rain stopped about five minutes before we walked on [the parade ground]. I think he had something to do with it."

PC Cain studied policing at university and then worked in a bar for a while, before deciding to go for it and enter the Academy.

The graduation was a big day. "This feels amazing, and proud of what we've achieved," he said on Friday. "Being able to experience it, being a police officer, it was something special I won't forget."

He says his mother supported his choice to be an officer.

"She was like any mum. She's happy I think, but concerned, as any parent would be.

"I went up to Chapel in my first two weeks [at the academy] and speaking with the padre up there and his name was on the wall and it was a bit of a sombre moment for me and I visited there a couple of times, and yeah it's been a journey.

"I just want to work hard and be part of the police force. I just want to be a cop that my colleagues can rely on and hopefully the community can rely on me too."

The Good Men Project

Thoughts on respect were voiced by 20 men ranging from 14 year old to 75 as part of The Good Men Project collated by Hills Community Aid.

Over the past 5 years over 80 men have discussed what it takes to be a good man with their photos and responses captured in a public insulation every year at Castle Towers Shopping Centre.

The Story boards were outside David Jones for two weeks and will be up until close of business on Sunday, 23rd October.

Matt Carroll, one of the men featured said: "I don't think it matters how old you are in this society we all need a good role model.

"I had my father and father in law who showed how important Integrity, hard work and respect were. Our challenge is to prove we are good men and ... and to continue to show respect."

RECYCLING OPTIONS

The Hills Shire Council has asked staff to prepare a feasibility report on a Community Recycling Centre (CRC) in the Hills and also scout out possible locations for such a centre.

The CRC would be a permanent drop-off centre for common household wastes that cannot be collected via kerbside waste and recycling collection services. The nearest CRC to the Hills is at Thornleigh in the Hornsby Council LGA.

A recent survey sent to Hills Shire residents as part of the development of Council's Resource Recovery Delivery Program 2022-2027 had more than 2000 respondents with around 92% supportive of a local CRC. CRCs collect items including paint, gas bottles, fire extinguishers, motor oils, car batteries, household batteries, smoke detectors and fluorescent globes and tubes and residents can drop-off these problem wastes at centres year-round, free of charge.

Councils and other organisations operate the centres in partnership with the NSW Environment and Protection Authority (EPA).

Hills Shire Mayor Peter Gangemi said: "A Community Recycling Centre potentially has large benefits for everyone."

FLOOD WASTE COLLECTION

Bookings for flood waste collection for Hawkesbury residents close on 30th November. Only Hawkesbury residents whose residential property or business has been impacted by the rising flood waters are eligible for the free Flood Waste Collection.

Residents or businesses whose properties were impacted by stormwater are not eligible for flood waste collection and will need to contact their insurance company for assistance.

If you are an eligible resident or business, fill out the online form on the Hawkesbury City Council website www.hawkesbury.nsw.gov.au. If you have difficulty in completing the form call council's Customer Service Centre on (02) 4560 4444 during business hours.

Indoor rock climbing

With the worst of the pandemic behind us and life now returning to being “more normal” there certainly has been an increase in invites to birthday parties and other celebrations.

When I was growing up there really was only two options for Children's birthday parties – you either had a party at home or if you were lucky enough it was a McDonalds Party. These days there are so many different options for Children's birthday parties from bowling to gymnastics to playlands to dance studios – there is something on offer to suit every child. The upside is that you end up exploring different activities and venues that you may have never been to.

Recently my daughter Maddie was invited to a rock climbing party at the Edge Rock Climbing Centre in Castle Hill. Having never attended the Edge before I was expecting to sit in the café and enjoy a coffee whilst my daughter enjoyed the party. However, it turned out to be a hands on party for the parents as well and found myself “belaying” or holding the ropes whilst Maddie scaled the walls and abseiled down.

Although I was apprehensive about belaying, the staff were fantastic and demonstrated how to belay correctly and ensured all parents were confident before allowing us to belay for the party guests.

The height of the walls vary from 3.5 meters to 18 meters and become more challenging as the height increases. There is also a high rope obstacle course involving climbing up a ladder and then working your way across an obstacle course ending with climbing a couple of tyres and ringing the bell to signal completion. It is no easy feat and certainly not for the faint hearted and even though Maddie didn't complete the course, I was proud she gave it a go because there is no way I would have even attempted it. Perhaps the highlight was “the labyrinth”, a caving system that has no internal light and requires those who dare to enter to take a glow stick or some form of light source to navigate the obstacles inside the cave that lead to a slide that brings you back into the open. It does involve very dark, tight spaces and despite some initial hesitation it wasn't long until Maddie had been through the labyrinth multiple times.

It is a great place for families to visit that is interactive, fun and offers a real work out whether you are climbing or belaying.

For a Saturday, the Edge Rock Climbing Centre was busy with birthday parties, group lessons and casual climbers of all ages and abilities. It is a great place for families to visit that is interactive, fun and offers a real work out whether you are climbing or belaying. Maddie was completely exhausted by the end however she declared it an “epic” experience and is keen to climb again soon. We both enjoyed the experience and have found a new activity to enjoy together and we are now looking forward to taking Alexis in the near future as well as exploring other local rock climbing centres in the region.

Galston Bendigo Bank hands back $3 million to the community

By ANNETTE MADJARIAN

The Galston and District Community Bank has just celebrated handing back a phenomenal $3 million to the local community since its inception 20 years ago.

The Galston branch of Bendigo Bank, located at 384 Galston Road (at Galston Shops), is unlike commercial banks in that it gives a considerable amount of its declared profits back to the community.

Over the years, the bank has sponsored a plethora of local schools, sporting groups, education programs, disability support, aged care, and also Careflight Helicopter.

Considering the bank only has some 20 to 25 percent of the local community banking with its branch, it also recently celebrated another major milestone – it has in excess of $300 million under its management since opening. To think the bank only exists today because a passer-by noticed the then NAB bank with a sign on its door saying: “we are re-locating for your convenience”. Not very convenient for the local community though, losing the only bank in the area.

So, the community set to work after realising they could form their own community bank (under the Bendigo Community Bank structure). A steering committee of 19 people was formed; a share prospectus was created; and the rest is history.

Some $897,000 in funds was raised from 287 people – and this was 22 years ago.

Chairman and founding director Ralph Steele (a Berrilee resident) said it quickly became apparent that the local community believed in what was being done.

“Bendigo then realised that our community was on board, and so it became much more serious,” he said.

The Bank is keen to hear from community groups, schools, sporting groups, and others, to sponsor and assist financially.

Unlike other banks, you can ring this bank directly and actually speak to a staff member.

For more details about the bank’s community funding and sponsorship program, phone 9653 2227. The bank is open Monday to Friday 9am to 5pm.

War Widows Day By BEV JORDAN

There were a lot of wonderful memories shared when a room full of war widows and dignitaries met to mark the first official War Widows Day in NSW on Thursday October 19th.

The special morning tea was organised by members of the Castle Hill RSL sub-branch.

For 93-year-old Jill Hudson (pictured) it was a fabulous opportunity to catch up with people she hadn't seen for a while.

"When you get older you live on good memories," she said.

She met her husband Robert in the UK when he was in the Royal Air Force and she was driving trucks as a member of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force (WAAF).

They migrated to Australia in 1964 and became members of the RSL. Her husband was later a director. He passed away six years ago.

Marion Smith, 83, said the day of recognition was welcomed. Her late husband Ron, a member of the Royal Australian Navy for 23 years, was also a Director at Castle Hill RSL.

Premier Dominic Perrottet said: "War Widows Day is an opportunity to acknowledge the contribution and personal sacrifice made by more than 15,000 surviving widows and widowers of servicemen and servicewomen across NSW."

Minister for Veterans David Elliott said the October 19th date acknowledges the birthday of Jessie Vasey who founded the Australian War Widows Guild in 1945.

"Mrs Vasey, widow of Major General George Vasey who was killed en route to New Guinea during the Second World War, worked tirelessly to ensure that war widows were recognised by governments in Australia and given the financial support and services they needed," he said.

Shirley Purser, 91, whose late husband Geoff was a Petty Officer in the Navy Reserve said the recognition for war widows and the work of Jessie Vasey was wonderful.

Hills Shire Mayor Peter Gangemi said: "I am pleased that we now have a day in place to acknowledge the sacrifices and strength of war widows and their families, who have had to endure life without their loved one."

Widows Marilyn Stoneham, Cheryl Hill, Jill Hudson, Marion Smith, Barbara Deakin and Shirley Purser with Hills Mayor Peter Gangemi, John Payne and Alex Hawke Federal MP

"It is my hope that this day will inspire even greater community support of our war widows and carry on the legacy of Jessie Vasey."

Because we care

positive paws

by BEV JORDAN

Alfie, Klea, Daisy, Marley, Oliver and Frank are four-legged volunteers who are making a huge difference to the mental well-being of residents in local aged care homes.

Positive Paws dogs and owners have been running regular visits to residents at three aged care facilities and now the Hills-based Positive Vibes Foundation is looking for more dog owners to take part so that the program can be expanded.

Foundation director Mario Rodrigues, who takes his dog Daisy, for fortnightly visits and says residents "cherish" the visits. He said one member of staff said: "A resident might only spend 2 minutes with the dog, but that's all they talk about for the rest of the week."

The Positive Vibes Foundation started the Positive Paws program about five years ago with just one dog, a 10 year old bichon frise called Hazy, to Arcare in Oatlands.

"The residents loved her and so did the staff. We saw the positive effect Hazy had on everyone and decided to expand the program, to get more volunteers and their pet dogs into more aged care homes."

While COVID did put a stop to the program for over a year there are now 12 volunteers spread across three aged care homes being visited including Arcare in Glenhaven with visits happening on the first and third Saturday of each month.

"One of our dogs, Alfie, performs tricks to the residents' delight and all – residents, their families and staff – cherish these fortnightly visits," said Mario.

"The residents love cuddling the dogs and talking to them. Some had dogs before but cannot have them at the care home so these visits are very special to them."

He said volunteers get to speak with the residents too giving the residents an opportunity to socialise.

Ann (pictured) says she and Alfie have a lot of fun volunteering.

POSITIVE PAWS VOLUNTEERS:
Ann and her dog Alfie,
Leanne with Klea and

COVER: Volunteers Rochelle with her dog Nelson, Mario with Daisy and Kerry with Murphy, outside Arcare Glenhaven.

"It is great to see the excitement of residents during our visits. Alfie loves the attention and we enjoy the residents' stories.

"One visit in particular stands out. As Alfie stopped beside one lady for a pat, her eyes lit up and she started chatting away to him. The staff got really excited, one with a little tear in her eye, as apparently that was the first time they had ever heard that lady being verbal."

Leanne (pictured) who has volunteered with Klea for four years said research has shown the benefits of "fur babies and good mental health".

"Visits to aged care are an absolutely fabulous activity and to experience the joy, laughter, chats with residents are in its self-rewarding and knowing I'm paying it forward each visit is gratifying," she said.

An aged care worker at one facility said: "Pets are a big part of people's lives and it is so hard when they move into care to not be able to have their pets with them. Our residents really love visits from Positive Vibes as it gives them a chance to interact with the animals, bringing back that feeling even if only for a short time. They are always looking forward to the next visit."

GET INVOLVED

* Positive Vibes would like to hear from dog owners interested in volunteering with the Positive Paws program and from aged care facilities interested in joining the program.

Mario said dogs need to be at least 18 months old (so they're past the nipping stage), up to date with their vaccinations, not an aggressive breed, and have a good temperament.

If you are interested in taking your dog to an aged care home, write to info@positivevibes.org.au or call Mario Rodrigues on 0414 747 603.

Positive Vibes runs a range of programs including The Hills Women's Shed and the Young Healthy Minds Forum. The aim is to make deeper connections and increase the conversation around mental well-being.

The Positive Vibes Foundation has an information stall at the UpMarket at Castle Hill Showground on Sunday October 23rd. The Hills Women's Shed meets at Balham Hills on Thursdays 10am to noon and every other Saturday 11am to 1pm.

Wesley Celebrates

A weekend of celebrations including a musical showcase will mark 50 years of worship at 32 Showground Road Castle Hill.

Well-known recording artist, singer/songwriter Tash Holmes will join much-loved local baritone David Sanders, local choirs and bands for a special variety concert on Saturday, 5th November at Wesley Uniting Church Castle Hill.

Tash works with many artists from across the globe to produce songs that inspire, uplift the soul and stand for justice.

On Sunday, 6th November there will be a church Service with Rev Simon Hansford the Moderator of the Synod of New South Wales and the Australian Capital Territory in the Uniting Church in Australia. It will be followed by morning tea with a celebration cake, and a special birthday lunch.

Wesley Castle Hill Uniting Church Minister Carmel Ieraci said an invitation was extended to all to join in the celebrations of a church on the Showground Rd site.

"There will be something for everyone at the concert. It's a wonderful celebration of life in the community at Castle Hill."

The church building was opened and dedicated at 32 Showground Road, Castle

Hill on the 4th November 1972. At the time it was the Castle Hill Methodist Church which had been located at 268 Old Northern Road, Castle Hill.

The need to relocate to a new building in a new location was due to traffic noise, and parking problems.

The Church was opened by Sir Roden Cutler VC, Governor of NSW, and dedicated by Rev Keith Doust, President of the Methodist Conference of NSW.

In July 1977 Church Union in Australia saw the union of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational Churches, forming the Uniting Church Australia.

There have been significant additions to the original Church building which now incorporate meeting rooms, a commercial kitchen, and more office space. Large lead light windows were made and donated in 1994 by the late Gunter and Angelika Kaminski.

The variety concert on Saturday, 5th November will start at 7pm. Tickets for the concert are $20 (no charge for children accompanying parents) and includes a light supper. Tickets will be available at the door on the night or by booking online at <https://events.humanitix.com/uniting-in-christ-wesley-anniversary-concert>

Lunch is 12.30pm on Sunday 6th November. Tickets are $10 adults and $5 a child. Email admin@wesleycastlehill.org.au for more information.

Maisie's Book of Rhyme

Just months after she passed away, Maisie Grady's book for children was launched at the Castle Hill Writer's Group at the end of September.

Her husband Alan Grady (pictured) said his wife had seen the book in draft form before it was published by UK publisher Austin Macauley. Maisie, a primary school teacher for over 40 years, was deputy principal of Northmead Public School when she retired.

"She had been writing books for children for years and reading to them," said Alan. He said the book had been in the pipeline for several years. She never saw the final product but she was happy with the proof she saw," he said.

Maisie passed away in June this year from cancer. A member of the Castle Hill Writer's Group for 30 years it was the writer's group co-ordinator Carmel Liddell who encouraged her to have her book printed. Members of the group, which meets at Wesley Uniting Church, Castle Hill, were at the launch to hear it read.

An accomplished poet and educator all her life, Maisie aimed the book at children aged between six and eight years old. The rhyming form and bright pictures are aimed at encouraging children to read out loud and enjoy reading.

In the book, My Story Book of Rhyme, the twins visit their grandparents, go to the beach, holiday in the snow and go to the farm. At the back of the book there are questions, a game and space to draw.

CWA NEWS

It has been quite a year for the CWA Galston Branch! Circumstances beyond our control saw us locked out of the Galston Health and Community Centre for most of the year. We were fortunate enough to hold our meetings at the Kenthurst rooms of the Castle Hill Branch, this at least allowed us to gather and get planning.

Despite being displaced, we managed to have a great year of fundraising through our market stalls and fashion parade, donating thousands to a variety of local charities. But as they say, there is no place like home, and it really does make a difference being able to utilise our own space back at the Community Centre.

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate our new office bearers elected at the recent AGM, and hope that with the new year coming we will be able to continue our efforts together with fundraising, creating items to sell at our stalls, supporting our community, and espousing all the values of the Country Women's Association.

If you are interested in being a part of the largest women's organisation in Australia, please come along to CWA Galston's next meeting on Wednesday 9th November at 10am at the Galston Health Community Centre. For more information please contact Jann 0439 222 217 or Debbie 0414 918 467. # Medical Equipment Pool

By LEONIE DIXON

The Hills Community Medical Equipment Pool (HCMEP), tucked away on the Balcombe Heights Estate at Baulkham Hills in Building 18, is a great place to hire medical equipment such as wheelchairs when needed.

A client who visited recently was delighted to find just what he needed and to realise how historical the whole estate is.

He couldn't believe he'd lived at Kellyville for years and didn't know the facility existed. He just wanted to go out and explore the area, after he took the wheelchair home to his wife, of course.

John Goulding says the Hills Community Medical Equipment Pool Inc. was formed by the Red Cross in 1981 with Castle Hill Area Health Centre as advisory body, and APEX, which provided the initial funding.

Baulkham Hills Council provided Building 14 which was destroyed after a fire in 1996 so Council moved it to the A wing of Building 18. HCMEP was made a tax deductible Charity in 1981 and later converted to a not-for-profit as an incorporated entity.

The concept was to provide short term loan (6 to 8 weeks) of Medical Equipment such as wheelchairs, crutches etc. to members of the general public. Red Cross withdrew support in 1983 due to constitution constraints and APEX withdrew in 1987 due to lack of members.

John, Rhonda and Bruce (pictured) have held all various Committee positions such as President, Controller and Treasurer since 1982 till the present day. Rhonda as a fully qualified Occupational Therapist has been able to advise on equipment purchases over the years.

Starting with 4-5 volunteers and 45 items for loan and operating with hand written records, we have grown to 39 volunteers and 798 items of medical equipment, available using three computer terminals and an "in-house" developed database for day to day operations.

With repairs needing to be done on the ceiling and COVID lockdowns there was a long period of not trading. However, we have returned with increased enthusiasm, more volunteers and an updated, clean and fresh office. We're grateful to the Hills Council for replacing the rotting floor and putting in new carpet.

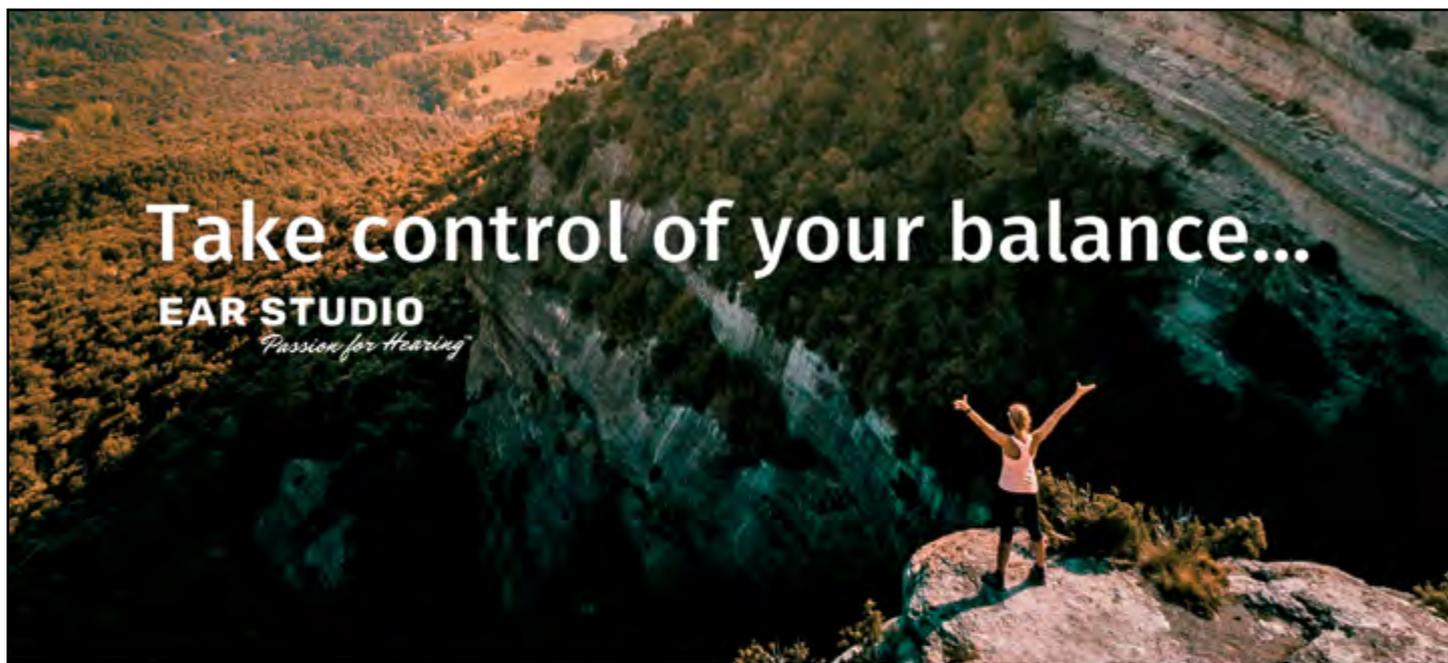

We remain a fully self-sufficient organisation with no external funding. All purchases and running costs are met by the funds generated by lending equipment at the same costs to the public that were set in 1981; along with the generous time donated by our friendly volunteers who staff the office.

All the volunteers would particularly like to thank John, Rhonda and Bruce (pictured) for the amazing effort they have made over 41 years to the success of the pool.

For more information and a full list of prices visit the website at www.hcmep.org.au. It operates with restricted hours Mon – Sat from 9-30am to 10-30am Mon, Wed, Fri at 5-00pm to 6-00pm. Building 18 Balcombe Heights Estate, 92, Seven Hills Rd, Baulkham Hills.

Riley's cricket career is on the rise

By LAWRENCE MACHADO

When it comes to cricket, Riley Jackson McDowell's young career is on the up and up. At 15 years, the talented wicketkeeper batsman is the youngest player for the strong Northern Districts third grade team in the 2022/23 NSW Premier cricket competition and more importantly looking like he belongs there.

This is the second season Riley is turning out for the Northern Districts, one of the strongest cricket clubs in NSW. He also plays for the club's Under 16 Green Shield team with his younger brother Josh, 13, also in the squad, the first time the two are playing competitively together. Josh is also an up and coming cricketer.

Riley, a member of the NSW Under 16 Cricket Academy squad, is quietly making a name for himself with his batting and skills behind the wickets.

Come next April, Riley will take part in the highly-competitive International Cricket Academy League (ICAL) event in New Delhi. In addition to Australia, the tournament will attract teams from Sri Lanka, England and India. Former Australian wicketkeeper Brad Haddin is the tournament ambassador for the ICAL, according to the organisation's website. His role will be to promote the competition and provide specialised training and advice to the players.

Playing for Northern Districts third grade is a big step up for the Oakhill College student, according to his Dad Jack McDowell.

"Riley is really enjoying his time at Northern District Cricket Club and attributes this to the club's outstanding culture which is incredibly inclusive and supportive of its members," Jack said. "As a young player in the club, Riley is enjoying and benefitting from the experience and mentorship of the men."

"Riley hopes to continue to progress through the grades and eventually play first grade cricket for Northern District CC. One of his main aims this season is to help Northern Districts win the Club Championship for the third straight year. He was a part of the side which helped them win the club championship in the 2021/22 season. Riley is looking forward to travelling to India next year because the International Cricket Academy League is a prestigious event and it will be a huge opportunity for him and his team."

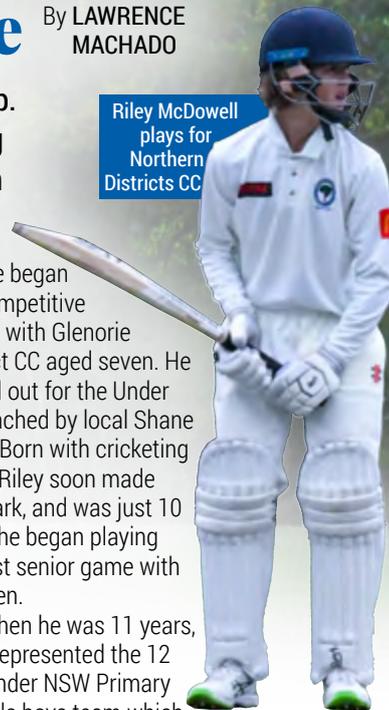

Riley, a stylish right hand opening batsman, cracked an impressive 383 runs at an average of 54.71 for the Hornsby, Ku-ring-gai & Hills District Cricket Association under 15 team which competed at the prestigious NSW Youth Championships. He also claimed 11 victims behind the stumps for the representative season.

He began his competitive career with Glenorie District CC aged seven. He turned out for the Under 8s coached by local Shane Duck. Born with cricketing skills, Riley soon made his mark, and was just 10 when he began playing his first senior game with the men.

When he was 11 years, Riley represented the 12 and Under NSW Primary Schools boys team which participated in the 2019 Australian Cricket Championships in Adelaide. Riley was one of the successes for his team, scoring 151 runs at an average of 30 having opened the batting.

An all-round sportsman, Riley has also played rugby union for Oakhill College's under 15s team – his Dad played the game competitively in New Zealand - and also loves touch football.

The new playground at Bella Vista Farm was officially opened 10th October. There was a huge turn-out of local families and children who were very excited by this new addition to the area. The wonderful historic farm at Bella Vista has been the home of so many exciting community gatherings that have seen families come together in the Norwest area of The Hills.

Opening of the Barclay Road North Rocks Commuter Car Park

Expansion of the Return and Earn Scheme

The Return and Earn Scheme was introduced in 2017. Since then, more than eight billion containers have been returned, delivering $800 million in refunds, and more than $35 million in donations to community groups and charities, as helping to reduce drink container litter by a massive 52 per cent.

The NSW Government is planning to expand the scheme, so it includes containers like glass wine and spirit bottles and larger containers. This is an exciting opportunity to build on one of Australia's most successful recycling initiatives and improve recycling practices in household across The Hills and NSW.

Consultation is now open on the Scheme's expansion, which would see almost all beverage containers between 150ml and 3 litres accepted for refund.

Congratulations to everyone

BOX HILL HOUSE

Box Hill House in the 1960s
Photographer unknown

CURRENTLY ONE OF THE FASTEST GROWING AREAS IN THE HILLS and Hawkesbury district, Box Hill stands just inside The Hills Shire boundary bordering the Hawkesbury Council area. The Terry and Rouse families were very prominent early settlers in the district. Samuel Terry acquired Box Hill Farm in 1819 from Robert Fitz who had found himself in financial difficulties. In 1831, John Terry, stepson of Samuel married Eleanor Rouse thus linking the two neighbouring families. John and Eleanor lived at Box Hill Farm from 1831 to 1834. A further linking of the two families occurred in 1895 when then owner of Box Hill Farm, George Terry married his cousin Nina Rouse.

As an aside, Nina later recalled when discussing the marriage "It was quite an event, because we were both well known in the neighbourhood. A special train left Redfern at 9.25am that day, and guests were met at Riverstone Station, which was garlanded with flowers and bunting. There were flags and decorations the whole way to Christ Church at Rouse Hill and after the ceremony the villagers unleashed the horses on the bridal carriage and dragged it up the hill to the wedding breakfast set out in the arcade." The arcade is a covered area at the rear of Rouse Hill House.

1896 saw George and Nina substantially rebuild Box Hill House retaining only four rooms of what was a second house.

In 1919 the bulk of the estate was subdivided into small farmlets and offered for sale on two pounds deposit and five shillings per month for each twenty pounds of purchase price. The auctioneers announced "Big auction sale of about 170 of the choicest of farms and farmlets in the County of Cumberland. Unlocked at last after being held, occupied, and continuously improved by four generations of Terrys for over a century". Nina and George later took up residence at Rouse Hill House in 1924, after George was declared bankrupt in 1921 and Box Hill House was transferred to Nina who also later became bankrupt in 1924. The remaining 212 acres was then sold and the Terry family moved to Rouse House, which Nina and her sister Kathleen had inherited from their mother, Bessie.

Then owner of Box Hill Farm, William McCall, (later to become Sir William McCall) in the 1950s put the farm up for sale. Hazel Nelson noticed it advertised by a Windsor Real Estate Agent and sought out William McCall with a view of inspecting the property for the possible use as a home for handicapped persons. Hazel Nelson was a founding member of the Sub-Normal Children's Welfare Association had also organised the establishment of the Handicapped Children's After-care Co-operative Society. Hazel spoke to Mr McCall's son Bill who told her his father was "at the pictures". Mr McCall rang Hazel at 10:45pm that night and he and Hazel spoke till 2am the next morning.

An appointment was made for the following Monday. They met on several subsequent occasions and Mr McCall nicknamed Hazel "Dynamite". Hazel remembered Mr McCall saying, "I've never been known to give more than a pound to charity. If you give too generously they don't feel they have to work for it".

In 1956 a joint meeting of the HCACS and SCWA supported the acquisition of Box Hill Farm. Four representatives, including Hazel, then met Mr McCall at his Martin Place office to pay the deposit on the purchase. When the Secretary produced the cheque book Mr McCall said, "There's no need for that. I'm giving it to the Association through Mrs. Nelson. You have no money, but I admire your spirit". Mr McCall's donation comprised the original 43 acres and building. Shortly after this the Association purchased 10 acres to give more frontage to Terry Road and better access to the home.

Much of the information has been provided to me through The Heritage Council of NSW through the "Heritage Conservation News" Vol 4, Number 3 of 1987 as well as through the 1975 booklet "The McCall Garden Colony Box Hill, Via Riverstone N.S.W" by Judith Lewis.
